Hitler Sits Silently as Aides Speak of Youth Slain by Pole

BERLIN, Nov. 17—(UP)—An official move to drive Jews from their homes in Germany was announced today by Der Angriff, organ of Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels, propaganda minister.

The announcement said: "The government is preparing a decree cancelling for Jew tenants the protective law, together with its provisions that notice is required in order to oust tenants."

"It is officially estimated that 8,000 homes in Berlin alone will be vacated because Jews in the future will be unable to afford the expenses of the homes. Large de luxe apartments probably will be partitioned among Germans."

Provisions of the decree were expected to be issued shortly.

Mr. Francis reported 400 cars were checked between 4 and 11 o'clock. Hunters checked totalled 1,200. There were about 24 cases, seven of which are still pending. Fines assessed amounted to $750 and costs $83.95. All cases, Mr. Francis said, were for more than the limit of game.

No arrests of game violators have been reported in Pickaway county since the opening of the rabbit and pheasant season.

HUNTING DEATH TOLL REACHES SIX; MANY HURT

BY UNITED PRESS
Two more deaths brought the toll of Ohio's Fall hunting season to six today. At least 14 persons were wounded in hunting accidents during the last 24 hours.

The deaths, added yesterday's four, were those of Henry Bullen, McDonald steel worker, who died of a heart attack when hunting near Andover, and James Lowry, 70, Powell farmer, found dead in a field of cereal hemorrhage.

Harold Dangler, 18, Findlay, was wounded seriously in the shoulder when a shotgun discharged accidentally.

Clifton Davis, 21, of Columbus, had his index finger and part of the thumb on his left hand shot off when his gun discharged while he was removing a piece of briar from the barrel. He was hunting near Londonderry.

Henley Surber, 60, Columbus, was in critical condition with a wound in the left leg. He was shot while hunting near West Jefferson.

Charles Freiburger Jr., Grosse Point, Mich., a Kenyon college student, was shot in the shoulder at Mt. Vernon. Keith Crooks, 1, of near Kenton, was shot in the palm of the hand by a rifle.

LaGUARDIA'S JEW GUARD FOR NAZI CONSULATE HIT

BERLIN, Nov. 17—(UP)—Der Angriff, the newspaper of Propaganda Minister Joseph Goebbels, today bitterly assailed Mayor Fiorella LaGuardia for establishing a Jewish police guard before the German consulate in New York.

"LaGuardia whose fat Jewish face is known to us by innumerable agitations and demonstrations against Germany is a person without tact or decency," the newspaper said.

"A Jewish guard before the German consulate is without taste and is also a gross lie. Jewry in America could never protect the German flag because it hires demonstrators, pays a howling rabble."

"The Jew LaGuardia has perpetrated a foul joke."

779 AGED FACE PENSION DELAYS

Office of State Auditor Hasn't Started to Write November Checks

November pension checks for the 779 aged in Pickaway county, now nearly due, will not be written until the money has been deposited in the old age pension fund, Mayson Hayhurst, office manager for the state auditor, said Thursday. Meanwhile nothing was being done to obtain the $2,600,000 which is needed to pay Ohio's 112,000 aged citizens.

State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson is attending a conference in Biloxi, Mississippi, and is not expected to return until some time next week. Governor Martin L. Davey has been in New York opening the Ohio building at the New York's World Fair. What his plans may be could not be learned.

Mr. Hayhurst said there was "a little bit" of money in the old age pension fund left over from the October payments, and approximately $700,000 in the Liquor (Continued on Page Eight)

GOVERNOR ONLY HOPE LEFT FOR MODERN BORGIA

COLUMBUS, Nov. 17—(UP)—Whether Anna Marie Hahn, 32 year old Cincinnati poison slayer, will die in the electric chair on Dec. 7, the date set by the Ohio supreme court, depended today upon possible action by Governor Davey.

The governor has the power to grant an extension of time, commute the sentence, or grant a pardon. However, Governor Davey never has indicated that he would come to the aid of Mrs. Hahn. In the absence of the governor from the city, those in his office said he would not comment on the Hahn case for several days.

The supreme court fixed the date for Mrs. Hahn's execution in Ohio penitentiary after more than a year of legal maneuvering by her attorneys.

She was convicted Nov. 6, 1937, of the murder of Jacob Wagner, 78. She has been the only woman prisoner in Ohio penitentiary since Dec. 2, 1937, occupying a special cell.

She was originally scheduled to die last March 10 but gained a stay of execution through an appeal and set May 4 as the date of her execution. She gained another stay through an appeal to the United States supreme court but the high tribunal dismissed her appeal last Oct. 10.

RECKLESSNESS CHARGED

H. O. Eveland, N. Court street, posted a $20 bond in police court Thursday to appear Monday at 7 p. m. on a charge of reckless operation of an auto. ### SEARCHERS END LONG VIGIL FOR MISSING CHILD

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Nov. 17—(UP)—Hundreds of men searching Rucker canyon and a 50 square mile area surrounding planned to cease a one week search for Jerry Hays, 5, today on the theory that the child had been kidnapped.

Sheriff I. V. Pruitt coordinating efforts on the small army was quoted as saying that "If we don't find the Hays youngster by today I'll know that he's been hauled out of here in a car."

Cochise county officers said Pruitt told them that a party in an automobile reportedly stopped a searcher last week in the upper reaches of the wild canyon and told him not to look any further—because the child was not there.

The boy wandered from his parents' hunting camp in the canyon last Friday morning. Bloodhounds from the Arizona state prison were unable to follow the trail and soldiers from Fort Huachuca, in full equipment, and nearby CCC camp enrollees joined the search.

Sub-zero weather in the mountains after the first day led authorities to fear the boy would not be found alive after 24 hours. A theory that a bear or other wild animal might have killed him was discounted when the dogs and experienced trackers failed to discover a clue.

Anna Wright Will Lists Bequests to Several; Pictures to Be Burned

A. Crummel, of Springfield; Ernest F. Crummel, of Cleveland; Percy R. Crummel, of Dayton; Ida H. Machir, Anna F. ### ZUPPKE DENIES RUMORS HE'LL QUIT ILLINOIS JOB

URBANA, Ill., Nov. 17—(UP)—Robert C. Zuppke, University of Illinois football coach, today denied rumors that he is ready to quit.

"I have no contract with Illinois," he said, "but I expect to be here next year and longer. There is no truth in reports I am quitting."

He will complete his 26th year at the university after next Saturday's game with the University of Chicago.

DIES AND HAGUE BOOED, ASSAILED BY C. I. O. CROWD

THE GROTT, PITTSBURGH, Nov. 17—(UP)—Chairman Martin Dies, D. Tex., of the house committee investigating un-American activities and Mayor Frank (I-Am-The-Law) Hague of Jersey City, N. J., were booed and hissed by delegates to the first convention of the Congress of Industrial Organizations here today.

The incident occurred as the convention shouted its approval of resolutions demanding anti-strike breaking legislation, a ban on child labor, establishment of a permanent congressional committee to investigate violations of civil liberties and other reforms affecting labor.

A resolution calling on the federal government to deny financial aid to all states in which workers' rights are violated was adopted quickly after W. J. Carney, C. I. O. regional director of New Jersey, attacked Hague as a "dictator."

He charged that New Jersey police under Hague's direction followed C. I. O. organizers from factory to factory and harassed them. The police do not "beat up our men, or we'd get more public sympathy," he said.

RUBBER PLANTS INCREASE PAY FOR EMPLOYEES

AKRON, Nov. 17—(UP)—Pay increases ranging from 10 to 20 percent for 10,000 white collar workers in three Akron rubber factories were announced today. The increases offset pay cuts made last April.

The increases apply to all salaried workers in the Goodyear, Goodrich and Firestone plants who are receiving less than $300 a month. Those receiving more than $300 will be considered individually in the matter of increases, the management said.

Workers in branch plants outside Akron were also affected by the pay increase order.

MORE PRESSURE HINTED AGAINST ANTI-JEW DRIVE

Miller's Order to Return Home May be Economic Blow to Berlin

ATTACK ON F. D. BITTER

Two Powers Near Agreement On Aid for Dispossessed Populace

BY UNITED PRESS
The United States hinted today that economic pressure might be used to back up President Roosevelt's condemnation of Germany's anti-Semitic campaign.

The American commercial attaché at Berlin, Douglas Miller, was suddenly ordered back to Washington a few hours after U. S. Ambassador Hugh R. Wilson had started home for "consultations" which may last indefinitely.

Departure of Wilson had been accepted by the German press as an opportunity for the American government to get a "clarified" picture of true conditions in the Reich. The recall of Miller was an indirect economic blow that not even the most optimistic Nazi editor could interpret as anything except stern disapproval of the extremist policies of German officials.

New Treaty in Danger

Germany's foreign trade is one of her weakest points. Any hopes of bolstering that trade by negotiating a treaty with the United States—as recently suggested by the Germans and coldly received in Washington because of the Reich "barter" system—is likely to be indefinitely delayed as a result of the return of Miller.

The Washington government has persistently expressed its disapproval of the totalitarian theory of "force" in world affairs and has indicated that it preferred to carry out the New Deal trade program by deals with the democratic powers rather than with the dictatorial bloc.

Thus, while the prospects of any trade accord with the Reich became even more remote, the United States and Great Britain at almost the same hour prepared to sign a (Continued on Page Eight)

CHRYSANTHEMUM DISCUSSED FOR CLUB MEMBERS

Development of the chrysanthemum from a small wild flower growing in China and Japan to its present sizes and types was traced in an interesting manner to Rotarians Thursday noon by R. L. Brehmer, Circleville florist.

The original wild flower was about three-fourths of an inch in diameter, Mr. Brehmer said. From this flower more than 1,500 types have been developed and more are being added to the list every year.

Mr. Brehmer described the various types and displayed a group of them ranging from the Japanese variety to the various American varieties.

He told Rotarians that flowers may be patented and the development of some flowers have meant riches to some florists.

The annual chrysanthemum show at the Brehmer greenhouses will be held Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

BERLIN, Nov. 17—(UP)—An official move to drive Jews from their homes in Germany was announced today by Der Angriff, organ of Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels, propaganda minister.

DUESSELDORF, Germany, Nov. 17—(UP)—Fuehrer Adolf Hitler, high party officials and tens of thousands of rank and file Nazis paid final tribute today to the slain Ernest Vom Rath, whose death unleashed last week's anti-Semitic rioting.

In the huge Rheinshalle Planetarium, where Vom Rath's body lay in state, Hitler sat beside the bier. He did not speak, but a funeral oration was delivered by Ernst Bohle, district leader, in behalf of the Nazi party.

"The entire nation again is deeply embittered standing in mourning at the bier of this young German who lost his life only because he was German and hence National Socialist," Bohle said.

"He is the eighth victim among Germans abroad to be murdered by Jews and Bolsheviks. Gustloff, Vom Rath and the Germans murdered in red Spain accuse that Jew Bolshevik system which uses murder as a political weapon."

"The Jew who killed Rath said he wanted to hit Germany. We may admit he succeeded. Jews forget that every blow makes National Socialism stronger."

NAVY REQUESTS BIDS FOR HUGE NEW DIRIGIBLE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17—(UP)—The navy department today called for bids for construction of a new dirigible to be placed in training service.

The bids will be opened on Feb. 2. Specifications call for an airship of approximately 325 in length and a gas capacity of approximately 1,000,000 cubic feet.

The call for bids culminated a long disagreement among high ranking naval officials on the advisability of the navy continuing experiments with lighter than air craft. Naval activities with this type of aircraft practically ceased with the destruction of the dirigibles Akron in 1933 and the Macon in 1935.

The destruction by fire of the giant German dirigible Hindenburg at the Lakehurst, N. J., naval air station in 1937 further discouraged experiments.

GOVERNOR ONLY HOPE LEFT FOR MODERN BORGIA

COLUMBUS, Nov. 17—(UP)—Whether Anna Marie Hahn, 32 year old Cincinnati poison slayer, will die in the electric chair on Dec. 7, the date set by the Ohio supreme court, depended today upon possible action by Governor Davey.

The governor has the power to grant an extension of time, commute the sentence, or grant a pardon. However, Governor Davey never has indicated that he would come to the aid of Mrs. Hahn. In the absence of the governor from the city, those in his office said he would not comment on the Hahn case for several days.

The supreme court fixed the date for Mrs. Hahn's execution in Ohio penitentiary after more than a year of legal maneuvering by her attorneys.

She was convicted Nov. 6, 1937, of the murder of Jacob Wagner, 78. She has been the only woman prisoner in Ohio penitentiary since Dec. 2, 1937, occupying a special cell.

She was originally scheduled to die last March 10 but gained a stay of execution through an appeal and set May 4 as the date of her execution. She gained another stay through an appeal to the United States supreme court but the high tribunal dismissed her appeal last Oct. 10.

TWO PRISONERS ADMIT FEDERAL JURY CHARGES

Edgar Turner, 21, of 366 E. Ohio street, entered a plea of guilty, Thursday, when arraigned in Federal court in Columbus on a charge of forgery involving a W. P. A. check.

Enos Holley, 41, of 116 Ohler avenue, Columbus, arrested in Pickaway county on a charge of illegal transportation of liquor after his car was involved in a collision on the Stoutsville pike, pleaded guilty. Sentences were not imposed.

A plea of not guilty to a liquor law violation was made by William Fast, Derby.

DIES AND HAGUE BOOED, ASSAILED BY C. I. O. CROWD

THE GROTTO, PITTSBURGH, Nov. 17—(UP)—Chairman Martin Dies, D., Tex., of the house committee investigating un-American activities and Mayor Frank (I-Am-The-Law) Hague of Jersey City, N. J., were booed and hissed by delegates to the first convention of the Congress of Industrial Organizations here today.

The incident occurred as the convention shouted its approval of resolutions demanding anti-strike breaking legislation, a ban on child labor, establishment of a permanent congressional committee to investigate violations of civil liberties and other reforms affecting labor.

A resolution calling on the federal government to deny financial aid to all states in which workers' rights are violated was adopted quickly after W. J. Carnegie, C. I. O. regional director of New Jersey, attacked Hague as a "dictator."

He charged that New Jersey police under Hague's direction followed C. I. O. organizers from factory to factory and harassed them. The police do not "beat up our men, or we'd get more public sympathy," he said.

RUBBER PLANTS INCREASE PAY FOR EMPLOYEES

AKRON, Nov. 17—(UP)—Pay increases ranging from 10 to 20 percent for 10,000 white collar workers in three Akron rubber factories were announced today. The increases offset pay cuts made last April.

The increases apply to all salaried workers in the Goodyear, Goodrich and Firestone plants who are receiving less than $300 a month. Those receiving more than $300 will be considered individually in the matter of increases, the management said.

Workers in branch plants outside Akron were also affected by the pay increase order.

BON BONS--AND HOW!

CORESCIA, Italy, Nov. 16—(UP)—This town had a big stomach ache today because a train struck a truck at a crossing. Hundreds of residents salvaged the truck's cargo of "bon bons." Shortly thereafter doctors were swamped with urgent calls. The "bon bons" were chocolate coated laxative pills.

MORE PRESSURE HINTED AGAINST ANTI-JEW DRIVE

Miller's Order to Return Home May be Economic Blow to Berlin

ATTACK ON F. D. BITTER

Two Powers Near Agreement On Aid for Dispossessed Populace

BY UNITED PRESS

The United States hinted today that economic pressure might be used to back up President Roosevelt's condemnation of Germany's anti-Semitic campaign.

The American commercial attache at Berlin, Douglas Miller, was suddenly ordered back to Washington a few hours after U. S. Ambassador Hugh R. Wilson had started home for "consultations" which may last indefinitely.

Departure of Wilson had been accepted by the German press as an opportunity for the American government to get a "clarified" picture of true conditions in the Reich. The recall of Miller was an indirect economic blow that not even the most optimistic Nazi editor could interpret as anything except stern disapproval of the extremist policies of German officials.

New Treaty in Danger

Germany's foreign trade is one of her weakest points. Any hopes of bolstering that trade by negotiating a treaty with the United States—as recently suggested by the Germans and coldly received in Washington because of the Reich "barter" system—is likely to be indefinitely delayed as a result of the return of Miller.

The Washington government has persistently expressed its disapproval of the totalitarian theory of "force" in world affairs and has indicated that it preferred to carry out the New Deal trade program by deals with the democratic powers rather than with the dictatorial bloc.

Thus, while the prospects of any trade accord with the Reich became even more remote, the United States and Great Britain at almost the same hour prepared to sign a (Continued on Page Eight)

CHRYSANTHEMUM DISCUSSED FOR CLUB MEMBERS

Development of the chrysanthemum from a small wild flower growing in China and Japan to its present sizes and types was traced in an interesting manner to Rotarians Thursday noon by R. L. Brehrer, Circleville florist.

The original wild flower was about three-fourths of an inch in diameter, Mr. Brehrer said. From this flower more than 1,500 types have been developed and more are being added to the list every year.

Mr. Brehrer described the various types and displayed a group of them ranging from the Japanese variety to the various American varieties.

He told Rotarians that flowers may be patented and the development of some flowers have meant riches to some florists.

The annual chrysanthemum show at the Brehrer greenhouse will be held Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

TISDALE ON TRIAL FOR SEYMOUR CHICK THEFT

Trial of Hobart Tisdale, 27, of Laurelville opened Thursday before a jury in Common Pleas court.

Tisdale is accused of the theft of 57 chickens from Mrs. Mary E. Seymour, Saltcreek township, last Aug. 20.

Jurors selected for the trial are Mrs. M. J. Valentine, Washington township; Floyd Bartley, Pickawton township; Mrs. Della Fry, Jackson township; Harry Carter, Deer Creek township; Mrs. Georgia Deal, Harrison township; John Beavers, Scioto township; and Mrs. Beatrice Bach, Mrs. Daisy Shelby, George Foreman, Mrs. Bess Henderson, Mrs. Anna Ritt and Charles Mack, all of Circleville.

CONVICT HEARS REPORT

Injunction Put in Court Over Year Ago During Ordinance Fight

Hearing on a motion in the city's domestic and commercial light rate controversy with the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Company will probably be held in Common Pleas court next month, Carl C. Leist, solicitor, informed council Wednesday night.

Mr. Leist said the court docket for the balance of November is filled. The case is now pending on a motion filed by Mr. Leist to make the petition more definite and certain and state the causes of action.

The case entered Common Pleas court in August 1937. A restraining order was obtained by the utility preventing the present council from taking action on referendum petitions against the rate ordinance passed by the outgoing council. The injunction restrained W. J. Graham then mayor, from presenting the petitions to council, council from voting an ordinance to provide the submission of the rate ordinance to voters, and from certifying the petition to the board of elections.

The contract offered a lower rate schedule under a 10-year contract. Under a court order the difference between the rate now charged and those provided in the ordinance are being impounded until the case is decided.

FARM NEWS

Brief Items of Interest to Pickaway Farmers

Feeding experiments indicate that beef heifers fatten faster than steers in a feeding period of less than 150 days, but the steers gain more weight at less cost when feeding is continued for 180 or 200 days.

A Holstein cow consumed 150 pounds of pasture grass daily in a feed test at Beltsville, Maryland. The pasture mixture was of excellent quality and furnished enough nutrients for the cow to produce 45 pounds of 3.5 milk per day.

Ohio State University is entering Percheron and Belgian horses, Shorthorn and Angus cattle, Shropshire and Southdown sheep, and six breeds of swine in the 1938 International Livestock Exposition which opens in Chicago, November 26.

WOSU, Ohio State University radio station, is one of several in Ohio which will broadcast market news on turkeys each Monday night at 8:55 through November and December. The news will be compiled from reports sent in by poultrymen.

The total number of carloads of potatoes from states other than Ohio unloaded in Cleveland from January 1 to October 1, 1938, was 2,850. North Dakota shipped potatoes to Cleveland for the first time in three years, the farm price in that state on September 15 was 33 cents a bushel.

Total stocks of tobacco probably will be larger at the beginning of next season due mainly to an expected increase in the carryover of burley. Slight increases appear probable in stocks of flue-cured, dark air-cured, and Maryland. Decreases are expected in fire-cured and cigar types.

Brick Masons Busy On Madison Township Job

By S. D. FRIDLEY
Phone Ashville 79

The brick masons have the new addition to the Madison township school building about up to what they call "the square" and that means, if what they gave us is right, that the roof is not far away.

The structure is to be completed and ready for occupancy by February, 1, 1939. On this will give Madison people an auditorium with a seating of two hundred.

And a report yesterday evening said that the Don Wean cottage in North Ashville has the siding all on and roof soon will be. And the other new dwellings are not far away from the occupancy stage.

Just yesterday we met a fine meter reading chap for the "Rail-Light" who was making the rounds of the 250 meters making a record of used current for the month past. Said it was his first time to Ashville and said he'd like to live here.

But moving here isn't so good now, be there are no empty dwellings. Said that he is a World War veteran and had been in three battles but luckily had come through without injury but several of his company did not fare so well, being killed. Told us he had been reading meters for 18 years and liked his job. Seemed to be pleased that his picture appeared in the "Illuminator", a monthly magazine the company gets out each month. Said the lady who furnished this name for the magazine was awarded $5 for her trouble. So if we can, we'll find a house for this "boy" and have him move in. And when you meet him call him Leroy Turner.

Squire Sherman Hoover had a short session of court, a highway patrolman having brought in an auto driver from off 23 who had forgot to buy a drivers' license. According to law one cannot be fined more than $500 for this offense, Sherman told us. So he got "five and costs" as a starter, but not having the change handy, was sent to jail until it was paid.

More Scioto township energy in getting things done, is doing the preliminary work toward building a Community House at Rob-town. The erection of this building is sponsored by the members of the United Brethren church at that place and community. Cement building blocks are to be used for the walls and Fred Curry's factory here is to supply them.

Parent-teacher meeting at school building tonight and you are invited. This especially applies to parents who have children in school.

LAWYERS LEARN FEDERAL COURT PRACTICE RULES

New rules of practice in federal court and the new bankruptcy law and rules with reference to that law were outlined by Robert Newlon, U. S. commissioner at Columbus, in an address before members of the Pickaway County Bar Association Wednesday evening.

Twenty members of the county bar met for a dinner at 6:30 o'clock in Pickaway Country club, followed by Mr. Newlon's address.

COUNCIL'S SESSION OVER IN LESS THAN ONE HOUR

Due to John G. Goeller, president, serving as acting mayor during the absence of Mayor W. B. Cady, Councilman Julius Helwig, president pro tem, was in charge of the meeting.

MOVIE CREATES
NEW PROBLEM
IN BOYS TOWN

Expected Donations As Result Of Film
Not Received

APPLICATIONS INCREASE

Picture Proves Hit At
Box Office; $5,000
Paid For Rights

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 17 (UP)—The much talked-about film, "Boys Town," produced by M-G-M has proved a financial flop as far as Father E. J. Flanagan is concerned.

It might have been better if he had gone on dreaming about a cinema of his city of little men, Boys Town, Neb., of which he is the founder—for ever since the movie has been shown, home donations have dropped considerably instead of soaring as he had expected.

The picture told of Father Flanagan's plans for new buildings—plans calling for a building program that would cost around $1,500,000, but there is one hitch in the setup—no funds.

More Seek Admittance

The picture itself, aside from its box office attraction, has had one definite result: It has reached the ears of many a youth throughout the country that the home of "little men" is a place of rest and peace and now they're coming intermittently wanting to be admitted.

Father Flanagan offers two reasons to explain the sudden decline in donations to the home. He believes that people seeing the picture reason that an orphanage famous enough to be the subject of a movie must be a wealthy institution that does not need funds. When M-G-M representatives first offered Father Flanagan $5,000 for whatever film rights he might have to his name and home, he accepted. Actually, movie producers and Father Flanagan were a bit uncertain as to what the financial outcome of the picture might be. But after spending nearly $1,000,000 in producing the movie, it proved to be a box office hit.

All Obligations Met

Father Flanagan definitely does not believe that the studio owes him anything. His only disappointment is that the film did not spur donations as he had expected.

The building plans for Boys Town have increased the capacity from the present 200 to approximately 600. Four new dormitories, to cost $1,500,000, would accommodate 130 boys each. The status of the building plans is uncertain now, according to Father Flanagan.

Boys Town has no debt and little money. There is a $50,000 trust fund, from which only the income may be used. Receipts so far this year have been approximately $5,000 under those for a similar period last year.

Generally speaking, any peafowl is called a peacock, whether male or female. Strictly speaking, however, only the male should be called a peacock. The female is properly called a peahen. Peafowl is the proper word to apply to the birds when speaking of them generally, without reference to sex. The young fowls are known as peachicks.

New Cleveland Plan Junks Desks,
Gives Law 100 Two-Way Radio Cars

Seven of Sixteen Stations Abandoned, as Force Is Spread Out in Giant Web of Mobile Units

One of the new patrol cars, part of a fleet of 100 equipped with short wave radio sets.

Elliot Ness, safety director who is streamlining the Cleveland police force.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 17—Transformation of paunchy, desk-bound police officers into "streamlined", quick-striking law enforcement agents who will be on the go every minute they are on duty is the highlight of a police department reorganization in this mid-western metropolis of nearly 1,000,000 inhabitants.

Under the new setup scheduled to go into full operation about Nov. 1, seven of the city's 16 precinct police stations will be abandoned, releasing scores of desk and reserve officers for active duty. This move alone is expected to provide an estimated 75 percent more patrolmen for active police work, and will put 1,000 officers in the field on active duty. In the past not more than 300 men were out at one time.

Five Districts

Present plans being carried out under the direction of the city's youthful, dynamic safety director, Elliot Ness, call for the division of the sprawling Lake Erie city into five police districts, subdivided into 32 zones. These zones will be policed 24 hours a day by officers in 100 red, white and blue patrol cars equipped with short-wave radio sets for receiving and transmitting messages. Many of the cars will be manned by officers who have been working in precincts for years.

The district-zone system, with its constantly cruising patrol cars, will be like a giant spider web from which, police officials say, law violators will find it difficult to escape. Patrol cars will be only a few seconds' driving distance from any section of the city at all times.

Nine of the original 16 precinct police stations will be retained for active police work. The stations will be linked by a teletype system.

New Roll Call Plan

Police officers no longer will report to precinct stations for roll call as in the past. Instead, they will report for duty in full uniform and will take over patrol cars at pre-arranged points. The points at which changes in patrol crews will take place every eight hours will be determined from day to day.

Crews of zones patrol cars will be responsible for apprehending traffic violators as well as criminals and other law breakers. Police men on traffic duty also will have to handle any violations they may encounter in their rounds. In addition to patrol cars, the city will be policed by detective cruisers, ambulances, traffic safety cars and motorcycles.

Instructions issued by the city's police chief, George J. Matowitz, state in part:

"It is not intended to limit the activities of any crew to any particular type of police service.

Less Red Tape

"It must be distinctly understood that the crew of any car observing an occurrence or condition requiring police action or attention shall, without awaiting specific instructions, render such service. The prevention of crime, detection of criminals and arrests of offenders are primary duties of every policeman, regardless of his assignments."

Thus every policeman will be "on his own" in the business of detecting, solving and preventing crime. It means the end of easy beats and precinct desk jobs for many a "flatfoot".

Ness and his aides are confident the new setup will give Cleveland the most modern, efficient police force in the country. Meanwhile police officials in other cities are watching the experiment with interest.

A spider is not an insect. Spiders belong to the class Arachnida, which includes scorpions, mites and ticks. They differ from insects in several respects. Spiders have no feelers or antennae, as insects have. They also have four pairs of legs and two pairs of jaws. Insects have three pairs of legs and three pairs of jaws.

ORDINANCE FOR DISPOSAL PLANT
GAS APPROVED

Council passed an ordinance under suspension of rules, Wednesday night, for the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. to provide gas for the new disposal plant.

Gas will be furnished the plant at the regular domestic rate. Providing gas at the plant requires an extension of 700 feet of pipe. The ordinance is effective for the balance of the six-year contract passed by council on Dec. 4, 1935.

After the disposal plant is in operation considerable gas will be provided from the treatment of wastes, councilmen were told.

FRESH PERSECUTION

ALMOST anything that happens in Germany, or to Germany, gives the Nazis another excuse for further oppression of the Jews. Thus the shooting of the Nazi diplomat in Paris by a Jewish boy, half-crazed by the cruel persecution of his race, naturally results in another wave of persecution in Germany.

There is to be a ban on "Jewish newspapers", including presumably all papers in which Jews have an interest. Jewish stores are wrecked, Jewish meetings, even for cultural purposes, will be forbidden. Jewish children will no longer be allowed to attend German primary schools. Harsher measures will be taken against foreign Jews in Germany. The Jews in Berlin and presumably in other cities are being "disarmed", that is, deprived of all kinds of small arms, so that it will be impossible to defend themselves when attacked.

The Nazi leaders enter upon these oppressive measures with such obvious satisfaction that, to outsiders, they seem to welcome Jewish attempts at reprisal. But every Jewish attempt at retaliation or self-defense gives them an excuse to apply new forms of cruelty and robbery.

Seldom in history has there been such an exhibition of national or racial sadism.

ENGLAND'S PET CAT

THE British lion may not be so happy lately as such a proud creature ought to be, but there's a British cat basking and purring in the limelight. This is Joey, official mascot of the treasury, supported by an annual grant from Parliament, and recently accepted as a national omen of good luck.

Joey, it seems, began appearing on the doorstep at No. 10 Downing Street, official London residence of British prime ministers, during the Czech crisis. The crowd of human beings that hung around the same door soon observed that Joey always appeared just as things looked darkest and that, as soon as Joey arrived, things promptly took a turn for the better. "Better" may be a dubious term in this connection, but the reader will get the idea.

Since Munich, Joey has been the gratified recipient of many gifts of fish, some of them coming by mail, from grateful Britons.

Englishmen should be careful. There's danger that Joey may become so well-fed and self-satisfied that he'll neglect his regular work, which is to keep down the mouse population around the Ministry. And that might be another omen.

Autos used to be a luxury and railroads a necessity, but now they're changing places.

'ROUND CIRCLEVILLE . . Hour by Hour

PAGES from the Diary of An Antiquated Reporter:

Up to a foggy morning, another phase of our most unusual winter. Soon away to the post, there receiving a card from Ham Rogers, who is wintering in Florida. "I did not realize that such fish existed as they have down here, and it is no place for a fly rod," Ham wrote. He is at St. Petersburg, but intends remaining not overlong in any one place. He has a good trailer.

At the Coffee Club did meet Paul Johnson and Bud Harden and paid for their serving. I'm going to quit gambling with that Methodist—Paul, I mean—unless his luck changes soon. Methinks I have bought him his morning coffee overlong already. Chatted with a school child who said that sarcasm may become a major course in the high school. I thought that the so-called better minds insisted that the application of sarcasm to children was a poor policy. Maybe I'm wrong.

Mrs. Onida Mehs brought in her new Cocker Spaniel pup. Her other one was killed by an auto and she cried all night. The pup, however, is rapidly filling the big void left by the one that passed on. Strange how one becomes so attached to a dog. I know, for we lost one under the wheels of a car.

Scotter Roof peppered his favorite dog with shot. The animal, one of a pair working for the hunter, jumped in front of the gun's discharge as Scot pulled the trigger on a running rabbit. Bill Crist almost lost his bird when it became entangled in a barbed wire fence and cut an artery in its tail. The dog almost bled to death before Bill was able to get it to a veterinarian. John Walters got his limit of pheasants in a half hour Tuesday morning. Cottle Radcliff fell into the icy waters of Scioto river. Monford Lamb killed two rabbits and fired at a third, missing it. He examined his gun and found the barrel split open at the end, dirt having lodged in it without his knowledge. Clarence Wolf wasted no second shells on wounded rabbits; he just ran them down.

Celebrated the first day of hunting as a game dinner guest at the cottage of Bish Givens et al on the banks of Darby creek. A mighty group of hunters gathers there each opening day. This year none got a shot at a pheasant, but they sure filled the pot with rabbits. Fine food, as prepared by Moose Court-right. And a fine evening sitting in front of the great fireplace discussing this and that. I don't hunt, but do enjoy the association of hunters. And I will help them eat their game.

Strange how quickly all the political talk vanished. Americans just will not take their politics as seriously as politicians would have them take it. Very few persons wish politics as a steady diet. They prefer to vote and forget.

Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON AND ROBERT S. ALLEN.

JOE MARTIN STRONG LEADER

WASHINGTON—The Republican Party not only will have greatly augmented forces in the next Congress, but for the first time in years it will also have top-notch leaders in both wings of the Capitol. In the Senate, the GOP has long possessed the No. 1 parliamentary and political strategist in Senator Charles McNary. Canny and foresighted, the slender, popular Oregonian is always at least three moves ahead of his Democratic opponents. In fact, the late Senator Joe Robinson conferred almost daily with McNary in an effort not to be outmaneuvered.

But on the House side, since the death of Speaker Nick Longworth, the Republicans have not been so fortunate. The bossy and ponderous Representative Bert Snell, who retired voluntarily this year after 12 terms, was neither able nor liked. He antagonized his own ranks and by inept blunders played repeatedly into the hands of the Democrats. An unyielding die-hard and partisan, Snell also balked at close teamwork with the more astute McNary because of the latter's liberal views.

But in the new Congress, the GOP will have a House leader on a par with their Senate leader. This will be Representative Joseph William Martin, Jr., of North Attleboro, Mass. There are other aspirants for the office, notably Representative James Wadsworth, New York former Senator and socialist, but Martin has the election clinched.

He already has received the pledges of 85 percent of the sitting Republicans and over 60 percent of the incoming members. By late December, when the party caucus takes place, Martin's support will be overwhelming.

NO BREAST-BEATER

Fifty-four years old, short, wiry and friendly, Martin has sat in the House since 1925. Like McNary, he is no breast-beater or limelight seeker, and is little known outside of official circles. But he is one of the shrewdest organizers in U. S. politics.

The 95 percent gain in Republican House strength can be credited in part to Martin's skilful leadership. As chairman of the G. O. P. Congressional Committee, he directed the campaign that swept 81 Democrats out of office and replaced them with Republicans.

Also like McNary, Martin is a moderate. He is friendly to labor and agriculture and believes strongly in social security measures.

JUST "KEEDING"

When Cuba's Colonel Fulgencio Batista traveled from Miami to Washington, on the same train was candid cameraman Tom McAvoy, looking for unusual shots of the Strong Man.

He finally succeeded in getting a shot of Batista busy at his morning shave. McAvoy returned to his car, pleased with himself. Presently one of Batista's dapper aides came back to see him.

"Mr. McAvoy," he said, "the Colonel asks me to tell you that since you have taken a picture of him shaving, you might care to know that he is now taking a bath. Would you like a picture of that?"

"You bet!" said McAvoy, jumping up and reaching for his camera.

"Ah no," said the aide, "the Colonel, he keed you."

DIET AND HEALTH

Nutrition Control Is Chief Duty of Thyroid

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

THE THYROID gland is the best known of the ductless glands. It is seated in the front of the base of the neck, and everyone must have seen it outlined under the skin in people with goiter.

Knowledge of treatment of thyroid gland disorders is more advanced than that of any other ductless gland. Its action in the body is, first, to control the general nutrition; all the processes in the body are kept up to level by the action of the thyroid secretion.

When the secretion fails, due to atrophy of the gland, a peculiar sluggish condition of the entire body occurs. In infants this is called cretinism. The child who is the victim of this disorder becomes fat and paunchy looking. It moves slowly and painfully. It does not grow normally. And its mentality is on the level of an idiot. Feeding children of this kind with fresh thyroid extract often brings about marvelous results. Growth begins, activity comes to normal and the mind develops—a new being is brought forth.

Myxoedema Explained

When the gland atrophies in adult life, the condition is called myxoedema. The bodily result is much the same as in cretinism. Slowly the victim grows heavy, with deposits of a sort of connective tissue under the skin. The face becomes heavy, the eyes listless, the lids full—the whole appearance animal-like. With this there is great mental regression. Speech and gait are slow and difficult, and there is a gradual withdrawal from life. There is a constant sensation of being cold. In this condition, also, the feeding of thyroid extract frequently brings about a return to normal.

So much for the atrophy or shrinking of the gland. It may also increase in size and pour extra amounts of secretion in thyroid extract. These enlargements are familiar as goiter.

Several forms of goiter are distinguished—simple goiter (enlargement of the gland without symptoms), toxic goiter, cystic goiter (great enlargement without any extra secretion) and exophthalmic or "pop-eyed" goiter. The actual cause of these enlargements is not known. Simple goiter is probably due to lack of iodine in the food and water. Such is the cause in goiter districts. These goiters can be prevented by adding a little iodine salt to the food.

Opposite Result

In the exophthalmic goiter an extra large amount of thyroid secretion is thrown out into the blood stream. The result is just the opposite of myxoedema. There is loss of weight, a sense of being hot all the time, great nervousness and muscular restlessness and trembling. There is a peculiar enlargement or pushing out of the eyeballs, which gives the patient the appearance of being terrified. The condition has some relation to fear, and soldiers have come out from battle with the syndrome completely developed.

This form of goiter may run its course and get well spontaneously. But surgical removal will shorten the course and today this method of treatment is quite regularly applied.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

D. V. H.: "Being an office girl, I am inclined to gain weight very easily due to lack of exercise and perhaps wrong diet. I watch my calories during meal times but there are the extra in-between-meal drinks, such as soda, coca-cola and Tom Collins. I am beginning to believe that these drinks ruin the benefits of a carefully-watched reducing diet. What is the average amount of calories in these popular beverages?"

Answer: You are entirely right. Anything extra you eat or drink, except water, black coffee and bouillon, ruins the effects of a carefully watched reducing diet (so long as it is really carefully watched). A bottle of a soft drink contains from 50 to 100 calories. A properly-made Tom Collins has about 180 calories.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

WEAR HIM DOWN

A BOXER frequently adopts the strategy of tiring out his opponent by means of body punches, which do no particular immediate damage but sap his strength, getting him ready for the finishing knockout punch later on. Declarers are sometimes like that when they run a long series of sure tricks in careful order, stripping a defender's hand to the point where he has nothing left to lead back, when he eventually gets a trick, except what they wish him to lead.

After passes by North and East, South pre-empted with 4-Spades, which became the final contract on this deal.

The diamond K was West's opening lead, which South trumped. Declarer could see nine tricks in sight, if the heart finesse was right, and his problem was where he could obtain the tenth. His first hope was that West led from a three card diamond suit, in which event he might set up dummy's diamonds. Based on this plan, he led to the spade Q and ruffed a diamond. Next he cashed his two high trumps and finessed the heart J. When a diamond was ruffed West played low, his chances for setting up that suit failed. He then led to the heart A and played a diamond, on which he discarded a heart. West won the trick, cashed his heart K and club A, but had to give a club trick to South.

ROMANCE IN C

BY OREN ARNOLD

WRITTEN FOR AND RELEASED BY CENTRAL PRESS ASSOCIATION

READ THIS FIRST

Sara Sue Davis, attractive young widow, establishes herself in a cozy cottage near the campus of Rice Institute in Texas, hangs out a sign which reads "COUNSEL IN ROMANCE", and inaugurates a novel plan to help guide 100 student "members" in their social affairs for a small fee. Bob Towne, campus football hero, Pomery, who had regarded herself as "Bob's girl" the previous year. An unprepossessing freshman, Worthington Gurley, enrolls and also displays an interest in the pretty young widow. Then Dr. Thornton Holgate, new member of the faculty, brings the Cottage Plan to a climax when he begs Sara Sue to help him and confide in his love for the Pomery girl. Finally, T. J. Sanders, a sports goods salesman, drops into town and falls in love with Sara Sue at first sight. After Sara has given Dr. Holgate several lessons in "how to become a man", he becomes frantic at the freshman ball when he comes upon Peaches badly intoxicated. For Peaches lies awake, tortured by Peaches' public display. The next day, while walking with some of the students, Dr. Holgate is confronted by Peaches and two other girls in a passing car. After a great time, Sara Sue was gracious, always. And grateful. Unlike some pretty girls, she did not just take courtesies for granted.

(NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY)

CHAPTER 23

SARA SUE DAVIS was at home from the freshman dance at 3 a. m. "It has been marvelous, Worthington!" she exclaimed, and meant it. "Your class has set a new record, everybody was saying."

Her escort beamed. "And thank you again for the flowers, and for the delightful time. I am so glad you asked me I don't know when I have had such a great time." Sara Sue was gracious, always. And grateful. Unlike some pretty girls, she did not just take courtesies for granted.

She went to bed rather quickly because she was tired. There were things she ought to do—bits of office bookkeeping and such—because she had neglected these on Saturday evening in order to dress her prettiest. Fat Cleo had assisted here, and had told her she looked like an angel. Cleo wasn't altogether wrong. But even angels (the earthly variety, that is) can be fatigued.

She was up at 10 o'clock, knowing she had a date at 10:40. When she had dressed and come into her semi-public living room, four or five colleagues were already lounging there. Prominent among them was Bob Towne.

"Hi, you old roue," he greeted. "How's the belle of the ball, the dissipation daisies, the merry melo-dist, the—?"

"Good morning, Bob, and everybody!" She smiled. "How come you're up and out so soon?"

"The others didn't go. Me, I can't make love." Bob announced it calmly.

"Well, that's a laudable ambition, I'm sure," she remarked, saucily. "Anyway, it is being done, I hear."

"Luscious and lovely, I came to take you riding. Whenever you should wake up. Cleo said you had to sleep late, but now that you're out—"

"No," said Sara Sue.

"No what?"

"No sleep. No riding with you."

"Nerts. Get your hat. We're leaving in five minutes."

"No, Bob. Thanks, no. Can't."

"Why?"

"Well—well, let's say I'm allergic to motoring. With you. You hit cows and things. Remember?"

"Aw. Come on, Sara Sue. Let's just go grab a cuppa coffee some-where."

"Cleo just served me one. And—well, to tell you the truth, I have a date right now. In a few minutes, at least."

"Date? That slime hanging around you this morning, too? I'll smack him all over—"

"You'd do nothing of the kind, Bob Towne, and you know it. Besides, it's not Worthington. It's Mr. Sanders. If you must pry!"

Bob was really surprised at that. Sanders. He knew Sanders was courting Sara Sue. He didn't blame the man for it, for Sara Sue was worth courting, surely. But—Sanders was an outsider. Not a student. Vaguely, Bob resented a non-student coming in to court Sara Sue, in competition with him and Worthington Gurley and the other Rice boys who wanted that privilege. He never gave a moment's thought to the significant fact that Sara Sue herself was not a student, and never had been!

"Phooey," mumbled Bob.

"No, Sanders. Mr. T. J. Sanders. You misunderstood." Sara Sue was bedeviling him a little. They played a lot, in mutual understanding.

It was as if she had announced him formally, for at that moment T. J. rang her door bell. She let him in herself.

"I'm almost ready," she told him. "Let me dab some rouge."

"Hi there, Towne. How's tricks?" He saw Bob then. "Hello, all."

"Oh, so-so. How's yourself?" "Pretty good. Just heading for church. Nice day."

"Church?"

"Yeah. Church. You know—church. Where they have singing, and preaching." T. J. Sanders could be sarcastic on occasions.

"Big house. Organ. People. Everything. I guess you wouldn't know. They don't use 'em in football."

"Nerts." But Bob grinned at him. "You pretty intimate with 'em yourself?"

"Sure!"

"Hey, Sara Sue—this guy taking you to church?" Bob called.

"Yes, indeed! Sweet of him, isn't it? So thoughtful. Much better than—than running down cows with fenders. And such things."

"Aw say—can't you ever forget? I take you riding one time. I happen to nick one cow. Away back in prehistoric times. And you still hold it against me!"

They all laughed, and T. J. escorted Sara Sue away. Bob watched them, looking more cheerful than he felt. He hadn't been any too successful with his courtship of Sara Sue lately. Not that it was his fault. Football was at its peak. Rice was in the midst of a hard campaign. Coach Britt was missing no bets, so far as keeping his men conditioned, and Bob was determined to play fair.

Once or twice he had gotten to mooning so heavily about Sara Sue that it affected his nerves—and football is played on nerves, by the way. But he and coach, and then he and Sara Sue, had had a couple of heart-to-heart talks which had straightened things out. Bob somehow felt that as soon as football season was over, and especially as soon as he got his sheepskin next June, he would wrap Sara Sue Davis up in a bag and take her home, his forever. Meanwhile, he was fretted by the wait.

And especially did he not like too much of T. J. Sanders. He had to be friends with Sanders, if possible. It meant a potential $1,000 if the football nerve and luck held out. But when somebody else goes to courting your girl, a man can stand only so much. He already had made an understanding with the energetic freshman. Maybe he really ought to take this Sanders and smack him around and—Bob sighed, got up and left the Davis cottage.

Sara Sue suspected some of Bob's unhappiness, and so tried to keep up cheery banter with him whenever she could. She went to church worrying about him a little.

"Swell football man, they Towne, Sanders, and the other there's the church, Sara Sue. You can hear the organ. Now this Dr. Ferguson—"

They parked and went inside. Just for mischief, Sara Sue would not let him sit her down near the back row of pews; she led him, behind an usher, right down to row three. She knew well that T. J. was doing some blundering when she would just pour it on him plenty! He who had tricked her into three dates.

"Will you kneel with me?" she whispered, reverently.

Not all Presbyterians kneel and pray on entering church, but some do. Sara Sue did. But—for once in her Christian career, she had to force back a smile in this holy moment. She forced it, too. Took control of herself, forced the reverence that she truly felt, and whispered a short prayer. Nor did she neglect to ask God's blessing on the young man beside her.

Tactfully she did not look at him, however. Back in her seat, she opened a hymn book and shared it with him. "Sing, or I'll kick your shins," she whispered.

The organ boomed and Sara Sue sang with the others. "Praise God from whom all blessings flow. Praise him all creatures here below—"

She sang sweetly, not so loudly as she had sung the college songs a few hours before, but happily and earnestly. A pretty girl with a pretty voice. Dr. Ferguson in his pew noted her with approval. Praise Father, Son, and Ho-lee Gho-o-ost!

She glanced at T. J. then. Manfully he had pitched into it, too. Singing.

"He's a good sport," Sara Sue told herself. "He's all right."

FRESH PERSECUTION

ALMOST anything that happens in Germany, or to Germany, gives the Nazis another excuse for further oppression of the Jews. Thus the shooting of the Nazi diplomat in Paris by a Jewish boy, half-crazed by the cruel persecution of his race, naturally results in another wave of persecution in Germany.

There is to be a ban on "Jewish newspapers", including presumably all papers in which Jews have an interest. Jewish stores are wrecked. Jewish meetings, even for cultural purposes, will be forbidden. Jewish children will no longer be allowed to attend German primary schools. Harsher measures will be taken against foreign Jews in Germany. The Jews in Berlin and presumably in other cities are being "disarmed", that is, deprived of all kinds of small arms, so that it will be impossible to defend themselves when attacked.

The Nazi leaders enter upon these oppressive measures with such obvious satisfaction that, to outsiders, they seem to welcome Jewish attempts at reprisal. But every Jewish attempt at retaliation or self-defense gives them an excuse to apply new forms of cruelty and robbery.

Seldom in history has there been such an exhibition of national or racial sadism.

ENGLAND'S PET CAT

THE British lion may not be so happy lately as such a proud creature ought to be, but there's a British cat basking and purring in the limelight. This is Joey, official mascot of the treasury, supported by an annual grant from Parliament, and recently accepted as a national omen of good luck.

Joey, it seems, began appearing on the doorstep at No. 10 Downing Street, official London residence of British prime ministers, during the Czech crisis. The crowd of human beings that hung around the same door soon observed that Joey always appeared just as things looked darkest and that, as soon as Joey arrived, things promptly took a turn for the better. "Better" may be a dubious term in this connection, but the reader will get the idea.

Since Munich, Joey has been the gratified recipient of many gifts of fish, some of them coming by mail, from grateful Britons.

Englishmen should be careful. There's danger that Joey may become so well-fed and self-satisfied that he'll neglect his regular work, which is to keep down the mouse population around the Ministry. And that might be another omen.

Autos used to be a luxury and railroads a necessity, but now they're changing places.

Methinks I have bought him his morning coffee overlong already. Chatted with a school child who said that sarcasm may become a major course in the high school. Scotter Roof peppered his favorite dog with shot. The animal, one of a pair working for the hunter, jumped in front of the gun's discharge as Scot pulled the trigger on a running rabbit. Bill Crist almost lost his bird dog when it became entangled in a barbed wire fence and cut an artery in its tail. The dog almost bled to death before Bill was able to get it to a veterinarian. John Walters got his limit of pheasants in a half hour Tuesday morning. Cottie Radcliff fell into the icy waters of Seloto river. Monford Lamb killed two rabbits and fired at a third, missing it. He examined his gun and found the barrel split open at the end, dirt having lodged in it without his knowledge. Clarence Wolf wasted no second shells on wounded rabbits; he just ran them down.

Celebrated the first day of hunting as a game dinner guest at the cottage of Bish Given et al on the banks of Darby creek. A mighty group of hunters gathers there each opening day. This year none got a shot at a pheasant, but they sure filled the pot with rabbits. Fine food, as prepared by Moose Courtwright. And a fine evening sitting in front of the great fireplace discussing this and that. I don't hunt, but do enjoy the association of hunters. And I will help them eat their game.

Strange how quickly all the political talk vanished. Americans just will not take their politics as seriously as politicians would have them take it. Very few persons wish politics as a steady diet. They prefer to vote and forget.

Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON AND ROBERT S. ALLEN,

JOE MARTIN STRONG LEADER

WASHINGTON—The Republican Party not only will have greatly augmented forces in the next Congress, but for the first time in years it will also have top-notch leaders in both wings of the Capitol.

In the Senate, the GOP has long possessed the No. 1 parliamentary and political strategist in Senator Charles McNary. Canny and foresighted, the slender, popular Oregonian is always at least three moves ahead of his Democratic opponents. In fact, the late Senator Joe Robinson conferred almost daily with McNary in an effort not to be outmaneuvered.

But on the House side, since the death of Speaker Nick Longworth, the Republicans have not been so fortunate. The bossy and ponderous Representative Bert Snell, who retired voluntarily this year after 12 terms, was neither able nor liked. He antagonized his own ranks and by inept blunders played repeatedly into the hands of the Democrats. An unyielding die-hard and partisan, Snell also balked at close teamwork with the more astute McNary because of the latter's liberal views.

But in the new Congress, the GOP will have a House leader on a par with their Senate leader. This will be Representative Joseph William Martin, Jr., of North Attleboro, Mass. There are other aspirants for the office, notably Representative James Wadsworth, New York former Senator and socialite, but Martin has the election clinched.

He already has received the pledges of 85 percent of the sitting Republicans and over 60 percent of the incoming members. By late December, when the party caucus takes place, Martin's support will be overwhelming.

NO BREAST-BEATER

Fifty-four years old, short, wiry and friendly, Martin has sat in the House since 1925. Like McNary, he is no breast-beater or limelight seeker, and is little known outside of official circles. But he is one of the shrewdest organizers in U. S. politics.

The 95 percent gain in Republican House strength can be credited in part to Martin's skillful leadership. As chairman of the G. O. P. Congressional Committee, he directed the campaign that swept 81 Democrats out of office and replaced them with Republicans.

Also like McNary, Martin is a moderate. He is friendly to labor and agriculture and believes strongly in social security measures.

JUST "KEEDING"

When Cuba's Colonel Fulgencio Batista traveled from Miami to Washington, on the same train was candid cameraman Tom McAvoy, looking for unusual shots of the Strong Man.

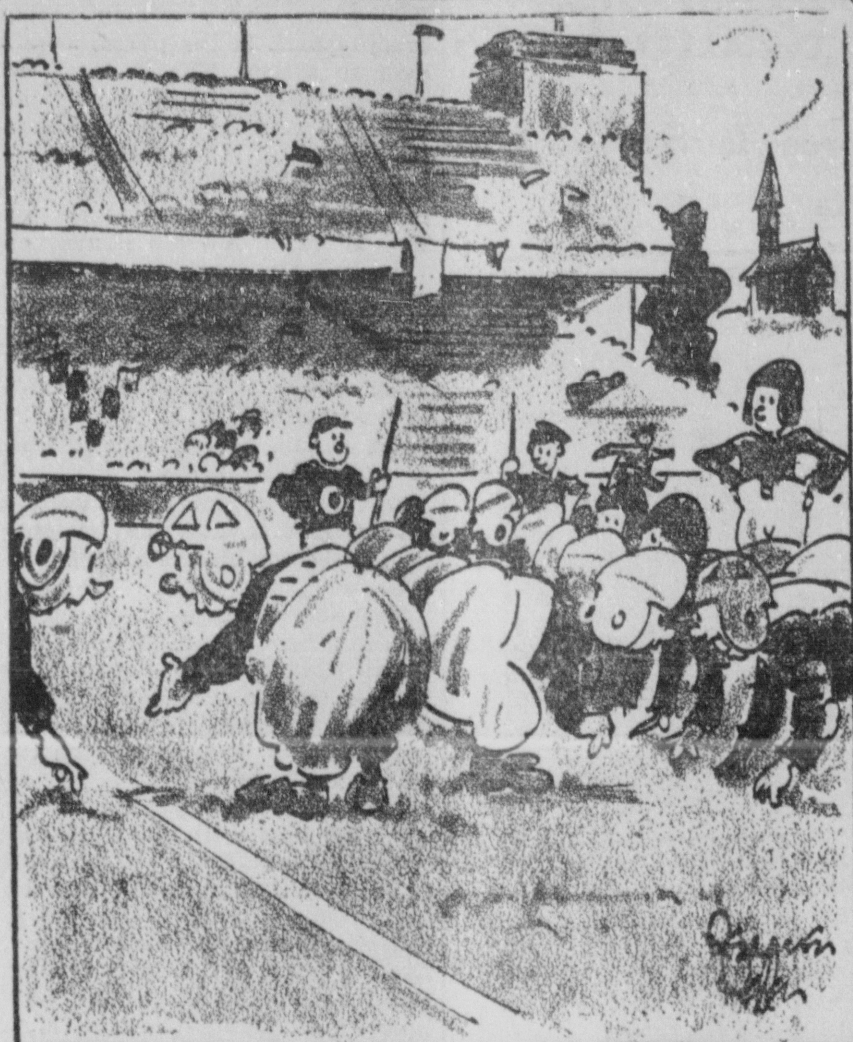

He finally succeeded in getting a shot of Batista busy at his morning shave. McAvoy returned to his car, pleased with himself. Presently one of Batista's dapper aides came back to see him.

"Mr. McAvoy," he said, "the Colonel asks me to tell you that since you have taken a picture of him shaving, you might care to know that he is now taking a bath. Would you like a picture of that?"

"You bet!" said McAvoy, jumping up and reaching for his camera.

"Ah no," said the aide, "the Colonel, he keep you."

DIET AND HEALTH

Nutrition Control Is Chief Duty of Thyroid

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

THE THYROID gland is the best known of the ductless glands. It is seated in the front of the base of the neck, and everyone must have seen it outlined under the skin in people with goiter.

Knowledge of treatment of thyroid gland disorders is more advanced than that of any other ductless gland. Its action in the body is, first, to control the general nutrition; all the processes in the body are kept up to level by the action of the thyroid secretion.

When the secretion fails, due to atrophy of the gland, a peculiar sluggish condition of the entire body occurs. In infants this is called cretinism. The child who is the victim of this disorder becomes fat and paunchy looking. It moves slowly and painfully. It does not grow normally. And its mentality is on the level of an idiot. Feeding children of this kind with fresh thyroid extract often brings about marvelous results. Growth begins, activity comes to normal and the mind develops—a new being is brought forth.

Myxedema Explained

When the gland atrophies in adult life, the condition is called myxedema. The bodily result is much the same as in cretinism. Slowly the victim grows heavy, with deposits of a sort of connective tissue under the skin. The face becomes heavy, the eyes listless, the lids full—the whole appearance animal-like. With this there is great mental regression. Speech and gait are slow and difficult, and there is a gradual withdrawal from life. There is a constant sensation of being cold. In this condition, also, the feeding of thyroid extract frequently brings about a return to normal.

So much for the atrophy or shrinking of the gland. It may also increase in size and pour extra amounts of secretion into the blood stream. These enlargements are familiar as goiter.

Several forms of goiter are distinguished—simple goiter (enlargement of the gland without symptoms), toxic goiter, cystic goiter (great enlargement without any extra secretion) and exophthalmic or "pop-eyed" goiter. The actual cause of these enlargements is not known. Simple goiter is probably due to lack of iodine in the food and water. Such is the cause in goiter districts. These goiters can be prevented by adding a little iodine salt to the food.

Opposite Result

In the exophthalmic goiter an extra large amount of thyroid secretion is thrown out into the blood stream. The result is just the opposite of myxedema. There is loss of weight, a sense of being hot all the time, great nervousness and muscular restlessness and trembling. There is a peculiar enlargement or pushing out of the eyeballs, which gives the patient the appearance of being terrified. The condition has some relation to fear, and soldiers have come out from battle with the syndrome completely developed.

This form of goiter may run its course and get well spontaneously. But surgical removal will shorten the course and today this method of treatment is quite regularly applied.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

D. V. H.: "Being an office girl, I am inclined to gain weight very easily due to lack of exercise and perhaps wrong diet. I watch my calories during meal times but there are the extra in-between-meal drinks, such as soda, coca-cola and Tom Collins. I am beginning to believe that these drinks ruin the benefits of a carefully watched reducing diet. What is the average amount of calories in these popular beverages?"

Answer: You are entirely right. Anything extra you eat or drink, except water, black coffee and bouillon, ruins the effects of a carefully watched reducing diet (so long as it is really carefully watched). A bottle of a soft drink contains from 60 to 100 calories. A properly-made Tom Collins has about 180 calories.

WEAR HIM DOWN

A BOXER frequently adopts the strategy of tiring out his opponent by means of body punches, which do no particular immediate damage but sap his strength, getting him ready for the finishing knockout punch later on. Decliners are sometimes like that when they run a long series of sure tricks in careful order, stripping a defender's hand to the point where he has nothing left to lead back, when he eventually gets a trick, except what they wish him to lead.

The diamond K was West's opening lead, which South trumped. Declarer could see nine tricks in sight, if the heart finesse was right, and his problem was where he could obtain the tenth. His first hope was that West led from a three card diamond suit, in which event he might set up dummy's diamonds.

Based on this plan, he led to the spade Q and ruffed a diamond. Next he cashed his two high trumps and finessed the heart J. When a diamond was ruffed West played low, his chances for setting up that suit failed. He then led to the heart A and played a diamond, on which he discarded a heart. West won the trick, cashed his heart K and club A, but had to give a club trick to South.

ROMANCE IN C

BY OREN ARNOLD

HAD THIS FIRST
Sara Sue Davis, attractive young widow, establishes herself in a cozy cottage near the campus of Rice Institute, in Texas, hangs out a sign which reads "COUNSEL IN ROMANCE", and inaugurates a novel plan to help guide 100 student "members" in their social affairs for a small fee. Bob Towne, campus football hero, much attracted by Sara Sue, is the first to enroll, and this enrages Peaches Pomeroy, who had regarded herself as "Bob's girl" the previous year. An unimpressive freshman, Worthington Gurley, enrolls and also displays an interest in the pretty young widow. Then Dr. Holgate, Holgate, new member of the faculty, brings the Cottage Plan to a climax when he begs Sara Sue to help him and confides his love for the Pomeroy girl. Finally, T. J. Sanders, a sports goods salesman, drops into town and falls in love with Sara Sue at first sight. After Sara has given Dr. Holgate several lessons in "how to become a human" he becomes frantic at the freshman ball when he comes upon Peaches badly intoxicated. For hours he lies awake, tortured by Peaches' public display. The next day, while walking with some of the students, Dr. Holgate is confronted by Peaches and two other girls in a passing car. After Peaches is driving away, he decides to go to Galveston for a swim. In the water, the crowd is startled when a mother cries that her child is drowning.

(NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY)

CHAPTER 23

SARA SUE DAVIS was at home from the freshman dance at 3 a. m. "It has been marvelous, Worthington!" she exclaimed, and meant it. "Your class has set a new record, everybody was saying."

"And thank you again for the flowers, and for the delightful time. I am so glad you asked me. I don't know how I have had such a grand time." Sara Sue was gracious, always. And grateful. Unlike some pretty girls, she did not just take courtesies for granted.

She went to bed rather quickly because she was tired. There were things she ought to do—bits of office bookkeeping and such—because she had neglected these on Saturday evening in order to dress her prettiest. But Cleo had assisted here, and had told her she looked like an angel. Cleo wasn't altogether wrong. But even angels (the earthly variety, that is) can be fatigued.

She was up at 10 o'clock, knowing she had a date at 10:40. When she had dressed and come into her semi-public living room, four or five colleagues were already lounging here. Prominent among them was Bob Towne.

"Hi, you old roue," he greeted.

"How's the belle of the ball, the dissipation dandy, the merry melody, that?"

"Good morning, Bob, and everybody!" She smiled. "How come you're up and out so soon?"

"The others didn't go. Me, I came to make love." Bob announced it calmly.

"Well, that's a laudable ambition, I'm sure," she remarked, saucily. "Anyway, it is being done, I hear."

"Luscious and lovely, I came to take you riding. Whenever you should wake up, Cleo said you had to sleep late, but now that you're out."

"No," said Sara Sue.

"No what?"

"No sale. No riding with you."

"Nerts. Get your hat. We're leaving in five minutes."
"No, Bob. Thanks, no. Can't?"
"Why?"
"Well—well, let's say I'm allergic to motoring. With you. You hit cows and things. Remember?"
"Aw. Come on, Sara Sue. Let's just go grab a cuppa coffee somewhere."

"Cleo just served me one. And—well, to tell you the truth, I have a date right now. In a few minutes, at least."

"Date? That smile hanging around you this morning, too? I'll smack him all over—"

"You'd do nothing of the kind, Bob Towne, and you know it. Besides, it's not Worthington, it's Mr. Sanders. If you must pry."

Bob was really surprised at that. Sanders. He knew Sanders was courting Sara Sue. He didn't blame the man for it, for Sara Sue was worth courting, surely. But—Sanders was an outsider. Not a student. It was as if she had announced him formally, for at that moment T. J. rang her door bell. She let him in herself.

They all laughed, and T. J. escorted Sara Sue away. Bob watched them, looking more cheerful than he felt. He hadn't been any too successful with his courtship of Sara Sue lately. Sara Sue suspected some of Bob's unhappiness, and so tried to keep up cheery banter with him whenever she could. She went to church worrying about him a little.

BUCKEYES WORK HARD FOR GAME WITH MICHIGAN

COLUMBUS, Nov. 17—(UP)—Ohio State polished its offensive weapons against a reserve team for the last time today in preparation for its 36th meeting on the gridiron with Michigan in Ohio stadium Saturday.

The emphasis placed on offensive formations this week by Coach Francis Schmidt indicated the Bucks will rely on the old maxim: The best defense is a good offense.

Blessed with one of the finest sets of November backs in the Big Ten, Schmidt apparently will depend on such stars as Jim Langhurst, Don Scott, Jim Strausbaugh, and Frank Zadorney to strike first and strike often against the rejuvenated Wolverines.

Cold weather hampered the Wolves final workout at Ann Arbor. Coach Fritz Crisler will not bring his squad to Columbus until Saturday morning, according to present plans, for the battle which will have important bearing on the 1938 conference title. An Ohio State victory will give the Bucks no worse than a tie for the top.

A capacity crowd of 72,000 was predicted for the game. The Michigan band will make the trip with the team.

CHINESE BEGIN COUNTER MOVE ON MAJOR CITY

HONG KONG, Nov. 17—(UP)—Unconfirmed Chinese reports said today that Chinese columns were closing in on Canton after shattering the outer Japanese defenses.

Chinese sources said their troops were preparing to storm the battered commercial center of southern China, which the Japanese captured almost without resistance.

They said that the main Japanese forces had retreated toward Canton from various directions and were awaiting reinforcements to defend the city.

Chinese columns, they said, had mopped up the remnants of the Japanese defense at Fatsan, 10 miles south of Canton and had reached Shekwaing, the eastern terminus of the Canton Samshui railway on the south bank of the Pearl river.

Meanwhile another Chinese column moved along the Hankow railway line and reached Siuping, seven miles from Canton.

Japanese troops repeatedly attempted to recapture Tamshui where the Chinese interrupted communications with Bias Bay.

More than 40 Japanese warships and transports were reported to be rushing reinforcements to Canton.

SHANGHAI, Nov. 17—(UP)—A Japanese spokesman admitted today the Chinese had launched a counter-offensive in South China but compared it to Taiherwang where the Chinese were temporary victors.

He said the Japanese troops had been drawn back at several points but that they would renew the offensive shortly, apparently when reinforcements arrive.

DAVEY REMOVED AS DEFENDANT IN BYERS SUIT

COLUMBUS, Nov. 17—(UP)—Governor Davey was eliminated as a defendant in a taxpayer's suit to force the state to adhere to federal and state regulations in the administration of old age pensions by action of the Ohio supreme court today.

The suit, brought by Edgar S. Byers of Cleveland, had named the governor, State Welfare Director Margaret Allman and Pension Chief Wray Bevens as defendants. The court held that Governor Davey was not properly a party to the suit and gave Mrs. Allman and Bevens until Nov. 19 to file an answer to the charges.

The suit was brought after the federal social security board had withheld federal pension funds from Ohio on grounds that the state pension division was not properly administered.

Coach Fritz Crisler will not bring his squad to Columbus until Saturday morning, according to present plans, for the battle which will have important bearing on the 1938 conference title. An Ohio State victory will give the Bucks no worse than a tie for the top.

A capacity crowd of 72,000 was predicted for the game. The Michigan band will make the trip with the team.

CHINESE BEGIN DAVEY REMOVED COUNTER MOVE AS DEFENDANT ON MAJOR CITY IN BYERS SUIT

HONG KONG, Nov. 17.—(UP)—Unconfirmed Chinese reports said today that Chinese columns were closing in on Canton after shattering the outer Japanese defenses.

Chinese sources said their troops were preparing to storm the battered commercial center of southern China, which the Japanese captured almost without resistance. They said that the main Japanese forces had retreated toward Canton from various directions and were awaiting reinforcements to defend the city.

Chinese columns, they said, had mopped up the remnants of the Japanese defense at Fatsan, 10 miles south of Canton and had reached Shekwaing, the eastern terminus of the Canton Samshui railway on the south bank of the Pearl river.

Meanwhile another Chinese column moved along the Hankow railway line and reached Shuping, seven miles from Canton.

Japanese troops repeatedly attempted to recapture Tamshui where the Chinese interrupted communications with Bias Bay.

More than 40 Japanese warships and transports were reported to be rushing reinforcements to Canton.

SHANGHAI, Nov. 17.—(UP)—A Japanese spokesman admitted today the Chinese had launched a counter-offensive in South China but compared it to Taichewang where the Chinese were temporary victors.

He said the Japanese troops had been drawn back at several points but that they would renew the offensive shortly, apparently when reinforcements arrive.

DAVEY REMOVED AS DEFENDANT IN BYERS SUIT

COLUMBUS, Nov. 17.—(UP)—Governor Davey was eliminated as a defendant in a taxpayer's suit to force the state to adhere to federal and state regulations in the administration of old age pensions by action of the Ohio supreme court today.

The suit, brought by Edgar S. Byers of Cleveland, had named the governor, State Welfare Director Margaret Allman and Pension Chief Wray Bevins as defendants. The court held that Governor Davey was not properly a party to the suit and gave Mrs. Allman and Bevins until Nov. 19 to file an answer to the charges.

The suit was brought after the federal social security board had withheld federal pension funds from Ohio on grounds that the state pension division was not properly administered.

STATE'S MOTOR TITLE LAW WINS IN HIGH COURT

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 17.—(UP)—The constitutionality of the state act requiring registration of automobile ownership titles with county clerks of court survived another state supreme court test today.

The court said the title law repeals the former "bill of sale" law and mortgaged automobiles must have their titles registered.

CANADA SEEKS WAY TO BOOST WHEAT PRICES

Big Exporting Countries Invited to Parley in Winnipeg

DECEMBER DATE FIXED

Growing Surpluses Cited As Reason for Drop in Value

WINNIPEG, Man., Nov. 17—(UP)—Authorities from the United States and other leading exporting countries of the world are being invited by the Manitoba government to attend a conference here in December to study the marketing of Western Canada's wheat and other agricultural products.

The proposed conference was announced by Premier John Bracken, and the Dominion and other provincial governments have indicated they would co-operate by sending representatives.

Premier Bracken said the conference will not be restricted to study of wheat marketing problems, but will include consideration of the problems associated with marketing of surpluses of cattle, hogs, butter, honey and poultry products and fish.

Full Representation Sought

"Outstanding Canadian and United States authorities will be invited, as well as representatives from the other leading exporting countries, and if possible an authority on European markets," he explained.

The premier said the decline in world wheat prices and growing surpluses made a study of "the future trend of prices and markets and what to do about them" a matter of "paramount importance."

The Dominion government is particularly concerned over the marketing of this year's wheat crop. It is pledged to pay growers a minimum price of 80 cents a bushel, no matter how low the world price drops, and, with wheat at present slightly above the 60-cent level, it faces a loss that may run into $50,000,000 on the crop.

"In terms of gold, present prices of wheat are not very far away from the levels established at the low point of the depression in 1932," Bracken said. "The 80-cent price for wheat this year, established by the Wheat Board and the Dominion government, has saved Western Canada, but what of next year and the years that are to follow? The situation is a challenge to western agriculture and a challenge to the nation as a whole."

Wants Fullest Study

"The time has arrived when the whole question should be considered in the light of our experience in 1930, and in the light of more recent developments."

"The situation is forcibly brought home to us in Western Canada this year when larger wheat crops in the United States and Canada, and fairly substantial production elsewhere, has not been accompanied by a corresponding improvement in international demand for wheat."

"The economical development of Manitoba and of Western Canada has been such as to yield large export surpluses of farm products and to project the West extensively into the field of international trade and consequently we must give much more serious consideration to our export position and the basis of our trade with other countries."

COUNCIL SEEKS NORTHERN LAND FOR HIGHWAY

Land for the extension of Seyfert avenue to Atwater avenue, better known as the N. Pickaway street extension, will be obtained by the city through condemnation proceedings.

Carl G. Leist, solicitor, was instructed by council, Wednesday night, to start proceedings against W. A. Lowe, Northridge road, and Dorothy L. Roman, Bexley, owners of the land. Mr. Leist told councilmen that efforts to purchase the land had failed.

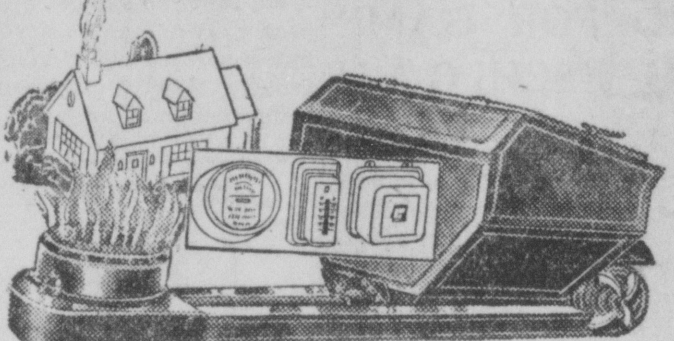

Councilmen believe the extension of the street would greatly improve the Seyfert addition. At present the street is being improved and the extension could be constructed with W. P. A. labor.

Santa To Haul Big Pack; 'Do Things' is Toy Motif

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—(UP)—Santa Claus' $225,000,000 pack this year will reproduce in workable miniatures virtually every activity of American home life, industry and transportation. Scientific advance testing of 1938 toy models by children to determine fun possibilities, age suitability, safety and educational value was reported at the annual Christmas preview sponsored by toy manufacturers.

In the roster of 10,000 new American made toys, Snow White, the G-man, the cowboy and a score of movie cartoons and radio stars competed for the spotlight of juvenile worship.

Old favorites with streamlined additions include new models in electric steam engines, two-faced black and white boards, non-activities. Scientific tests show that children have much more fun with toys which enable them to 'do things'.

The housing boom is fulfilled in 1938 toylands. There are new styles in prefabricated houses made of blocks, bricks and cardboard.

Polarized light is the latest scientific gadget to be adapted to playroom technique. A child can tell mother whether the tablecloth is cotton or linen.

The age level of dolls has progressed into the teens.

Sophisticated dolls with page-boy bobs and glamorous girl costumes appeared at the preview. They boast high style wardrobes that cover every social occasion. Evening dresses with trains, tailored sports costumes and afternoon gowns are featured for older dolls. Doll wigs are setting a new high in variety with page-boy bobs and a wide selection of ringlets arrangements.

Dolls and animals have been modeled from favorite characters in popular children's books as well as the movies, cartoon and radio heroes.

A miniature vacuum cleaner has joined the large roster of house-keeping toys. Children's furniture in period and modern styles also was shown at the preview.

The picture is at the Circle theatre Thursday.

You will find familiar faces in "Penrod and His Twin Brother," for example: Frank Craven and Spring Byington play Penrod's parents; Jackie Morrow is again the rival for leadership of the "Junior G-Men"; Philip Hurlie is his little Negro pal. ### BILL OF $22.60 GIVEN TO 'DADS' AFTER REPAIRS

Bill for $22.60 paid to a Plumber by Elgin Merriman, N. Court street, was submitted to council's laws and claims committee, Wednesday night, for consideration.

Councilman Don Mason, who presented the bill in council, said Mr. Merriman had called in a plumber to determine the cause of a sewer backing up in his basement. It was later learned that the flooding was caused by work on the installation of the pumping station at the Hargus creek bridge in connection with the disposal plant. Merriman and Mason believed the bill should either be paid by the city or contractor.

ARMY OF TREES HELPS IN SOIL EROSION FIGHT

COLUMBUS, Nov. 17.—Ohio farmers have mobilized an army of millions in their fight against soil erosion, D. T. Herrman, Columbus, state coordinator of the Soil Conservation Service, said today.

This is an army of trees, the coordinator explained, of which more than 24,000,000 have been planted for erosion control purposes on the land of farmers co-operating with the Service in soil-saving demonstrations. These trees are protecting more than 16,000 acres from soil washing.

Principal species planted have been black locust among the hardwoods, Herrman said. Conifers planted include shortleaf, white, red, and pitch pines. Trees have been employed principally to protect steep, denuded areas from erosion, and to stabilize gullied areas.

Black locusts have been used extensively for the latter purpose. "Black locusts grow rapidly, have a spreading root system, and do relatively well on poor soils," he explained. "This makes the locust ideal for gully control work."

Herrman warned farmers against pasturing their woods, stating that grazing animals which trample the leaf litter and undergrowth lessen the effectiveness of woods for erosion control.

Alligators and crocodiles really are different. The alligator has a blunter snout and a broader, shorter head than the crocodile. The alligator has not so many webs on the toes as a crocodile, the jagged fringe on the hind legs of the crocodile are absent on the alligator. There is also a slight difference in the teeth of the two creatures.

Has No Trouble Working Now Since Dizziness Passed Off

Attractive young woman feels like new since Vendol sharpened her appetite, brought thorough bowel movement and stimulated tired kidneys.

The following experience proves that young people in this city as well as older ones may take Vendol and get wonderful benefits. It is the case of Miss Mary Delgado, who says:

"At times I would get so dizzy while at work that I would have to stop and sit down and rest a lot of valuable time in this way. During these spells little black spots would float before my eyes. I was so sluggish and constipated I seemed to fill up with bile and began to lose all my energy and strength.

"My kidneys got out of order and I began to have mean, nagging backaches and my sleep was broken by aches and pains. My digestion wasn't so good either, and the gas forming after meals would make my heart flutter.

"I heard so much about Vendol and all the good it was doing that I decided to give it a trial, and it made me feel like a new person. It got my bowels moving nicely, acted as a mild diuretic to my kidneys and soon the dizzy spells, gastritis, and backache left me. Now I eat better, sleep better, and my work seems like play. You may tell everyone that Vendol has me hearty and energetic."

Last time I lost money and to make the best use of your time you must be in tip-top condition. If you are feeling "out of sorts" try Vendol, and notice the cleansing and invigorating effect for good old Bile and Herbs with mild Alkalines, give you. It is safe, dependable, pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists.

Santa To Haul Big Pack; 'Do Things' is Toy Motif

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—(UP)—Santa Claus' $225,000,000 pack this year will reproduce in workable miniatures virtually every activity of American home life, industry and transportation. Old favorites with streamlined additions include new models in electric steam engines, two-faced black and white boards, non-breakable marionettes, automatic scoring marble bowling sets a shoofly modeled after a panda and a new electric pencil for etching wood, leather and cork.

A new miniature organ boasts four octaves. A velocipede has a chain drive like a bicycle. A rapid-fire bubble blower emits a continuous stream of large rainbow hued bubbles from a single dip, and there's a big repertoire of films for magic guns that shoot pictures on the wall. Sleds have gone streamlined, they have tip-proof brakes.

"Like parents, like child," is an inevitable guide to children's play interests," said James L. Fri, director of the Toy Association. "It is a happy commentary on American life that American children are principally interested in play that imitates home and business activities. Scientific tests show that children have much more fun with toys which enable them to 'do things'."

Miller's Order to Return Home May Be Economic Blow to Berlin

(Continued from Page One) reciprocal agreement of great importance. The British-American treaty, regarded as the keystone in U. S. Secretary of State Cordell Hull's program, was desired by the United States as an indication of solidarity and amity as much as for economic reasons.

More Steps Taken
Elsewhere developments in connection with the Jewish problem included:

1. Announcement that the right of Jews to continue occupancy of homes and apartments would be abrogated and that they could be dispossessed at any time. Probably 8,000 will be ousted in Berlin alone.

2. The Nazi press let loose with both barrels in an attack on President Roosevelt's statement, which has never been printed in Germany. The theme of the German press attack was that American imperialism again was rising in the Western Hemisphere, backed by Jewish influence in the United States.

3. High Nazi leaders, including Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop, spoke in Dusseldorf at the funeral of Ernst Vom Rath, German diplomat killed by a Jewish boy in Paris. They warned, in the presence of Fuehrer Adolf Hitler, that attacks against Germans would merely result in greater unity of the Reich behind the Fuehrer.

4. In London, Britain and the United States were reported near agreement on a plan to provide most of Germany's 700,000 Jews with a new home. A $150,000,000 scheme which would probably be financed by American and Jewish organizations was under consideration for establishment of colonies in sparsely settled parts of the British empire.

the hall as he rode slowly between lines of storm troopers. Entering the hall, Hitler stood silently for a moment before the catafalque. He saluted then took a seat.

The services opened to the strains of the funeral march from Beethoven's "Eroica" symphony. They began at noon and were terminated at 12:38 p. m.

Bohle was followed by Joachim Von Ribbentrop, foreign minister, who said:

"My Fuehrer, fellow Germans, my dear dead party comrade. A few months ago Rath returned from the East. He was murdered. All of his comrades mourn him. The whole nation mourns him.

"A hostile world believes by blind hatred it will be able to hold up the evolution of a new idea. Lies, slander, blood and terrorism are instruments of international Jewry and other destructive elements.

"The latest victim was murdered by a cowardly paid assassin.

Old World Sinking

"Dear comrade! You from year to year witnessed Germany's rise under the Fuehrer. This is more than most humans obtain from providence. You may sleep in peace. The old world is sinking."

After the ceremony at the hall Hitler went to the railway station to return to Berlin while the cortege started for the cemetery.

The fact that Hitler did not speak came as a surprise. This did not immediately ease the fear of many Jews that new drastic measures against them would be taken.

Thousands of rank and file Nazis from all parts of Germany filed past the bier of the Nazi diplomat whose slaying by a 17-year-old Jew in Paris caused violent anti-Semitic riots last week.

The heat of press attacks on foreign powers, who yesterday made representations to Germany against damage caused to the property of their nationals, boded ill for the Jews.

He said that contracts are now being let in a number of smaller counties, among them Medina and Portage which are on the fringe of the Cleveland-Akron area where the truck strike threatened most seriously.

Hitler Sits Silently as Aides Speak at Rites For Slain Youth

The hall as he rode slowly between lines of storm troopers. Entering the hall, Hitler stood silently for a moment before the catafalque. He saluted then took a seat.

The services opened to the strains of the funeral march from Beethoven's "Eroica" symphony. They began at noon and were terminated at 12:38 p. m.

Bohle was followed by Joachim Von Ribbentrop, foreign minister, who said:

"My Fuehrer, fellow Germans, my dear dead party comrade. A few months ago Rath returned from the East. He was murdered. All of his comrades mourn him. The whole nation mourns him."

"A hostile world believes by blind hatred it will be able to hold up the evolution of a new idea. Lies, slander, blood and terrorism are instruments of international Jewry and other destructive elements."

"The latest victim was murdered by a cowardly paid assassin."

Old World Sinking

"Dear comrade! You from year to year witnessed Germany's rise under the Fuehrer. This is more than most humans obtain from providence. You may sleep in peace. The old world is sinking."

After the ceremony at the hall Hitler went to the railway station to return to Berlin while the cortege started for the cemetery. The fact that Hitler did not speak came as a surprise. This did not immediately ease the fear of many Jews that new drastic measures against them would be taken.

Thousands of rank and file Nazis from all parts of Germany filed past the bier of the Nazi diplomat whose slaying by a 17-year-old Jew in Paris caused violent anti-Semitic riots last week. The heat of press attacks on foreign powers, who yesterday made representations to Germany against damage caused to the property of their nationals, boded ill for the Jews.

Letter That Criticizes
Cincinnati Action

POOR MAN DEFENDED

Msgr. Heyker Claims Rich
Permitted to Gamble;
"Dens" are Cited

CINCINNATI, Nov. 17 —(UP)—The right of the poor man to indulge in "an innocent game of chance" was defended today by the chancery of the Catholic archdiocese of Cincinnati.

The letter from the chancery to priests, signed by Msgr. Matthias F. Heyker, chancellor, criticized Cincinnati city officials for banning bingo games.

The letter mentioned no city official by name but declared "that a city official should array all the forces at his command against a harmless and innocent game of chance played by old and young under the most wholesome conditions, at the same time closing his eyes to dens of iniquity that are demoralizing the city and making one section of it a national scandal, seems incredible."

Rich May Gamble

"The poor laboring man who indulges in an hour or two of innocent recreation in which he can spend as the maximum 50 cents to $1.35 is condemned with all the trappings of the law as if he had committed the worst of crimes, but the rich in the club life of Cincinnati can gamble notoriously for the highest stakes without interference," the letter continued.

"We find persons who are dealing in futures and buying on the margin in the stock markets condemn a simple game of chance. They have no qualms of conscience about reaping profits from the losses of scrub women, elevator boys and the poor who have been intrigued to take desperate chances."

The letter also condemned vile literature on sale here.

It contended that gambling which is legally wrong is not necessarily morally wrong.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

It is with hearts heavy with sorrow that we report the death of a loved and valued Pythian Sister, Florence Lathouse, which occurred November 1, 1938, her passing caused deep sorrow in our temple.

We extend our heartfelt sympathy to her family in their bereavement. We cannot help but miss her, and there will always be this thought in our minds when we see the vacant chair which once was occupied by our faithful sister, that while she is with us no more, Heaven is richer because of her presence there.

In loving remembrance of her, we drap our Charter for a period of thirty days and that a copy of these resolutions be presented to the family, as an evidence of our respect for our departed sister, a copy be placed upon our minutes and also one to be given to the paper for publication.

"In the cemetery sweetly sleeping,
Where the flowers quietly wave,
Lies the one we loved so dearly
In her dark and silent grave."

Peaceful be your sleep, dear Sister,
It is sweet to breathe your name,
In life we loved you dearly
In death we do the same.

DUNCAN

We Give Thanks

Thanksgiving is here again and the name implies just this, "We Give Thanks," for we should be grateful for everything that we have even though it may be very meager. Besides being thankful, Thanksgiving always reminds me of food—turkey and all the "trim-min's."

If we want to be modern and up to date, we should keep pace with the developments in cooking methods and equipment. A great amount of experimenting has been done on roasting of fowl. Also improvements have been made on the marketing of poultry, and one who should know about is the new-quick roasted, fully drawn poultry pack that is steadily gaining in favor.

There are three points which I hope you will keep in mind when you are roasting your Thanksgiving turkey. First, do not cover the bird, simply place it on a trivet in an open roaster. When you cover the roaster, the poultry loses its crisp surface. Second, no water needs to be added, either before or during the roasting. Third, basting is not necessary, just brush the skin with cooking oil or melted fat, or if you'd rather, lay 2 or 3 thin slices of bacon or salt pork over the breast.

Unusual stuffings for the turkey have an appeal for me and I do believe it does something to add to the zest. The following recipe might come under that classification:

Mushroom Stuffing
1 1/2 C. rice
2 Tbsp. fat
3 Tbsp. minced onion
6 fresh mushrooms
4 C. soup stock
2 tsp. salt
1 Tbsp. poultry seasoning
1 egg

Fry onion in fat until tender, add mushrooms (broken) and dry rice; simmer until rice is golden in tint, then add soup stock, salt, and poultry seasoning. Cover and steam 20 minutes. Remove from fire, add beaten egg and mix well. Add additional seasoning to taste. Cool before stuffing fowl. Makes 3 C. dressing. Diced celery may be added, if desired.

This is a day when you are glad to prepare extra dainties and everyone will appreciate them. Try making Cherry Relish this year:

Cherry Relish
1 large can red cherries
1/2 C. brown sugar
1 2-inch stick cinnamon
2 whole cloves
1/2 tsp. grated nutmeg
1 pkg. cherry gelatine
1 C. boiling water
1/2 tsp. salt

Simmer cherries, sugar and spices 20 minutes. Remove cinnamon and cloves. Cool. Dissolve gelatine in boiling water, add salt; chill until almost firm. Fold in cherry mixture. Pour into individual molds, which have been dipped in cold water, and chill until firm. Serves 6.

It just wouldn't seem like a Thanksgiving dinner if cranberries weren't served in some way, so we offer you this recipe:

Steamed Cranberry Pudding
1 C. flour
1 1/2 tsp. baking powder
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 C. brown sugar
1/2 C. bread crumbs
1/2 C. finely chopped suet
1 C. chopped cranberries
1 egg
1/2 C. milk or water

Mix ingredients in the order given. Turn into a well-greased mold, cover with waxed paper and steam 2 hours. Serve with foamy hard sauce.

SEEN ALONG FIFTH AVENUE

Birds, feathers and flowers make hats gayer than ever. A flat disc of black felt with narrow brim, rolled at either side, has two huge red velvet tulips and green velvet leaves, so posed in front that the flowers extend beyond the brim. A brown hatter's plush model is trimmed with a fantastic bird, fashioned of iridescent coq feathers, the bird placed center front, with wings extending either side to the back. A chechia of black hatter's plush has cartridge pleats at the narrow side, while the wide portion is striped with velvet and metallic ribbon in violet, violet-blue, purple and lilac with bands of silver ribbon.

HOUSEHOLD HINT

For sandwiches combine cooked and chop liver with such ingredients as chopped pickles, green pepper, celery, mushrooms, cooked egg, onion and salad dressing.

ARMY STUDIES TESTING RANGE IN SOUTHWEST

Area For Practice Fire
Would Give Fort Bliss
600,000 Acres

APPROVAL IS NEEDED

Two And Half Millions To
Be Needed To Purchase
Great Property

EL PASO, Tex., Nov. 17—(UP)—The most destructive ordnance and bombs of modern warfare will be tried out in a vast "no man's land" in western Texas and eastern New Mexico if recommendations submitted to Washington are approved.

Plans for the enlargement of Fort Bliss by 600,000 acres have been submitted to the War Department, it was revealed in recent conferences here between Major-Gen. Ben Lear and Rep. R. E. Thomason, D., Tex., ranking member of the house committee on military affairs.

The enlarged Fort Bliss would be utilized by the army as a great training center and a target range for artillery and bombing.

The Organ and Hueco mountains would form natural "backstops" for the target ranges and bombing activities, and the almost negligible population of the locality would eliminate the civilian safety hazard, advocates of the plan said.

Climate Important Factor

They pointed out that the climate was suitable for year-around training, and that transportation, water facilities and variety of terrain would make the ground ideal for all types of defense practice.

The recommendations called for acquisition of 200,000 acres of land in Texas and 400,000 acres in New Mexico. Both principal tracts adjoin the present Fort Bliss reservation. Fort Bliss now is a cavalry post.

The land in Texas could be obtained for approximately $2,500,000, it was estimated. That needed in New Mexico is chiefly state-owned territory, of public domain.

Thomason and other representatives will meet army and federal civilian officials soon in a conference with New Mexican authorities regarding that area, it was said.

Vital Need Seen

"With the growing importance of anti-aircraft defense, bombing, field artillery and small arms firing in modern warfare, such a vast training area somewhere in the country has become a requisite," Gen. Lear said.

Military experts said that only one other area in the nation—the Mojave Desert—offered the sparsity of population and variety of terrain necessary. But the intense heat of the area made it unsuitable for military training.

"In view of the talk of preparedness by President Roosevelt and the War Department," Thomason said, "I think the time

Through the jokes of some comedians and the stories of magazine writers and newspaper columnists people have got an idea that all married couples in Hollywood lead separate lives. You would think the Hollywood wife is not the least bit interested in her husband's career.

I happened to be present the other day when a wife got a telephone call from her husband who is a big executive of a studio. When she hung up, she turned around with a beaming face and says "I just got the most wonderful news from my husband."

I says "What's the matter? Did he finally turn out a good picture?" and she says "No, he's jest had a nervous breakdown and we're gonna spend the Winter in Honolulu!"

Oranges, Lemons Provide Real Flavoring for Jam

THIS IS the season when good cooks "swap" recipes for jams, jellies and preserves. Kitchens are fragrant with the appetizing odor of cooking fruit. Cupboard shelves are hosts to rows of well-filled jars. The flavor and acid content of oranges and lemons makes these fruits valuable additions to other fruits in many popular jellies, jams and conserves. Slices of the unpeeled fruit, the grated peel or the juice may be used in cooking and canning such fruits as pears, apples, apricots, peaches, figs and rhubarb. Inclusion of the peel will give a subtle fragrance as well as enhanced flavor.

Lemon Juice Helps

The cloying sweetness of preserves is overcome by the addition of one tablespoon of lemon juice to each cup of fruit about two minutes before removing from heat. With conserves, one lemon sliced thin is added to each pint of fruit. This may be done with pear, peach, apricot, pineapple or tomato conserves. Experts recommend the use of a tablespoon of lemon juice and one teaspoon salt to each pint jar to increase the certainty of success in canning such vegetables as corn, artichokes, peas, beans, asparagus and greens.

Baked orange and peach jam is a sure-fire hit. No standing over a hot range to make this one—the oven does the job. Ingredients include two medium oranges, one lemon, one dozen fresh peaches and sugar. Cut unpeeled lemons and oranges in pieces and put through food grinder. Peel and slice peaches. Combine fruit. Measure an equal amount of sugar. Place in shallow pan and bake two hours in a slow oven (300 F.). Stir occasionally. This recipe yields about two pints.

There's a Good Reason You're Constipated!

When there's something wrong with you, the first rule is: get at the cause. If you are constipated, don't fiddle around with makeshift remedies. Find out what's giving you the trouble!

Chances are it's simple if you eat only what most people do: meat, bread, potatoes. It's likely you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean a lot of food. It's a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines and helps a bowel movement.

If that fits you, your ticket is a crisp crunchy breakfast cereal—Kellogg's All-Bran. It contains the "bulk" you need plus the great intestinal tonic, vitamin B<sub>1</sub>. Eat All-Bran every day, drink plenty of water, and just watch the old world grow brighter! Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

CHURCH FLAYS LAW STOPPING BINGO GAMES

Catholic Official Writes
Letter That Criticizes
Cincinnati Action

POOR MAN DEFENDED

Msgr. Heyker Claims Rich
Permitted to Gamble;
"Dens" are Cited

CINCINNATI, Nov. 17.—(UP)—The right of the poor man to indulge in "an innocent game of chance" was defended today by the chancery of the Catholic archdiocese of Cincinnati.

The letter from the chancery to priests, signed by Msgr. Matthias F. Heyker, chancellor, criticized Cincinnati city officials for banning bingo games.

The letter mentioned no city official by name but declared "that a city official should array all the forces at his command against a harmless and innocent game of chance played by old and young under the most wholesome conditions, at the same time closing his eyes to dens of iniquity that are demoralizing the city and making one section of it a national scandal, seems incredible."

Rich May Gamble

"The poor laboring man who indulges in an hour or two of innocent recreation in which he can spend as the maximum 50 cents to $1.35 is condemned with all the trappings of the law as if he had committed the worst of crimes, but the rich in the club life of Cincinnati can gamble notoriously for the highest stakes without interference," the letter continued.

"We find persons who are dealing in futures and buying on the margin in the stock markets condemn a simple game of chance. They have no qualms of conscience about reaping profits from the losses of scrub women, elevator boys and the poor who have been intrigued to take desperate chances."

The letter also condemned vile literature on sale here.

It contended that gambling which is legally wrong is not necessarily morally wrong.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

It is with hearts heavy with sorrow that we report the death of a loved and valued Pythian Sister, Florence Lathouse, which occurred November 15, 1938, her parting caused deep sorrow in our temple.

We extend our heartfelt sympathy to her family in their bereavement. We cannot help but miss her, and there will always be this thought in our minds when we see the vacant chair which once was occupied by our faithful sister, that while she is with us no more, Heaven is brighter because of her presence there.

In loving remembrance of her, we drape our Charter for a period of thirty days and that a copy of these resolutions be presented to this family, as an evidence of our respect for our departed sister, a copy be placed upon our minutes and also one to be given to the paper for publication.

In the cemetery sweetly sleeping, Where the flowers quietly wave, Lies the one we loved so dearly In her dark and silent grave.

Peaceful be your sleep, dear Sister, It is sweet to breathe your name, In life we loved you dearly In death we do the same.

DOROTHY
DUNCAN

We Give Thanks

Thanksgiving is here again and the name implies just this, "We Give Thanks," for we should be grateful for everything that we have even though it may be very meager. Besides being thankful, Thanksgiving always reminds me of food—turkey and all the "trimmings."

If we want to be modern and up to date, we should keep pace with the developments in cooking methods and equipment. A great amount of experimenting has been done on roasting of fowls. Also improvements have been made on the marketing of poultry, and one who should know about is the new-quick roasted, fully drawn poultry pack that is steadily gaining in favor.

There are three points which I hope you will keep in mind when you are roasting your Thanksgiving turkey. First, do not cover the bird, simply place it on a trivet in an open roaster. When you cover the roaster, the poultry loses its crisp surface. Second, no water needs to be added, either before or during the roasting. Third, basting is not necessary, just brush the skin with cooking oil or melted fat, or if you'd rather, lay 2 or 3 thin slices of bacon or salt pork over the breast.

Unusual stuffings for the turkey have an appeal for me and I do believe it does something to add to the zest. The following recipe might come under that classification:

Mushroom Stuffing

1 1/2 C. rice
2 Tbsp. fat
3 Tbsp. minced onion
6 fresh mushrooms
4 C. soup stock
2 tsp. salt
1 Tbsp. poultry seasoning
1 egg

Fry onion in fat until tender, add mushrooms (broken) and dry rice; simmer until rice is golden in tint; then add soup stock, salt, and poultry seasoning. Cover and steam 20 minutes. Remove from fire, add beaten egg and mix well. Add additional seasoning to taste. Cool before stuffing fowl. Make 3 C. dressing. Diced celery may be added, if desired.

This is a day when you are glad to prepare extra dainties and every one will appreciate them. Try making Cherry Relish this year:

Cherry Relish

1 large can red cherries
1/2 C. brown sugar
1 2-inch stick cinnamon
2 whole cloves
1/2 tsp. grated nutmeg
1 pkg. cherry gelatine
1 C. boiling water
1/2 tsp. salt

Simmer cherries, sugar and spices 20 minutes. Remove cinnamon and cloves. Dissolve gelatine in boiling water, add salt; chill until almost firm. Fold in cherry mixture. Pour into individual molds, which have been dipped in cold water, and chill until firm. Serves 6.

It just wouldn't seem like a Thanksgiving dinner if cranberries weren't served in some way, so we offer you this recipe:

Steamed Cranberry Pudding

1 C. flour
1 1/2 tsp. baking powder
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 C. brown sugar
1/2 C. bread crumbs
2/3 C. finely chopped suet
1 C. chopped cranberries
1 egg
1/2 C. milk or water

Mix ingredients in the order given. Turn into a well-greased mold, cover with waxed paper and steam 2 hours. Serve with foamy hard sauce.

ARMY STUDIES TESTING RANGE IN SOUTHWEST

Area For Practice Fire
Would Give Fort Bliss
600,000 Acres

APPROVAL IS NEEDED

Two And Half Millions To
Be Needed To Purchase
Great Property

EL PASO, Tex., Nov. 17.—(UP)—The most destructive ordnance and bombs of modern warfare will be tried out in a vast "no man's land" in western Texas and eastern New Mexico if recommendations submitted to Washington are approved.

Plans for the enlargement of Fort Bliss for 600,000 acres have been submitted to the War Department, it was revealed in recent conferences here between Major-Gen. Ben Lear and Rep. R. E. Thomason, D., Tex., ranking member of the house committee on military affairs.

The enlarged Fort Bliss would be utilized by the army as a great training center and a target range for artillery and bombing.

The Organ and Hueco mountains would form natural "backstops" for the target ranges and bombing activities, and the almost negligible population of the locality would eliminate the civilian safety hazard, advocates of the plan said.

Climate Important Factor

They pointed out that the climate was suitable for year-around training, and that transportation, water facilities and variety of terrain would make the ground ideal for all types of defense practice.

The recommendations called for acquisition of 200,000 acres of land in Texas and 400,000 acres in New Mexico. Both principal tracts adjoin the present Fort Bliss reservation. Fort Bliss now is a cavalry post.

The land in Texas could be obtained for approximately $2,500,000, it was estimated. That needed in New Mexico is chiefly state-owned territory, of public domain.

Thomason and other representatives will meet army and federal civilian officials soon in a conference with New Mexican authorities regarding that area, it was said.

Vital Need Seen

"With the growing importance of anti-aircraft defense, bombing, field artillery and small arms firing in modern warfare, such a vast training area somewhere in the country has become a requisite," Gen. Lear said.

Military experts said that only one other area in the nation—the Mojave Desert—offered the sparsity of population and variety of terrain necessary. But the intense heat of the area made it unsuitable for military training.

"In view of the talk of preparedness by President Roosevelt and the War Department," Thomason said, "I think the time

WELL, I'LL TELL YOU

BY BOB BURNS

I think it's about time somebody came to the defense of the Hollywood wife. Through the jokes of some comedians and the stories of magazine writers and newspaper columnists people have got an idea that all married couples in Hollywood lead separate lives. You would think the Hollywood wife is not the least bit interested in her husband's career.

I happened to be present the other day when a wife got a telephone call from her husband who is a big executive of a studio. When she hung up, she turned around with a beaming face and says "I just got the most wonderful news from my husband."

I says "What's the matter? Did he finally turn out a good picture?" and she says "No, he's just had a nervous breakdown and we're gonna spend the Winter in Honolulu!"

Oranges, Lemons Provide Real Flavoring for Jam

THIS IS the season when good cooks "swap" recipes for jams, jellies and preserves. Kitchens are fragrant with the appetizing odor of cooking fruit. Cupboard shelves are hosts to rows of well-filled jars. The flavor and acid content of oranges and lemons makes these fruits valuable additions to other fruits in many popular jellies, jams and conserves. Slices of the unpeeled fruit, the grated peel or the juice may be used in cooking and canning such fruits as pears, apples, apricots, peaches, figs and rhubarb. Inclusion of the peel will give a subtle fragrance as well as enhanced flavor.

Lemon Juice Helps

The cloying sweetness of preserves is overcome by the addition of one tablespoon of lemon juice to each cup of fruit about two minutes before removing from heat. With conserves, one lemon sliced thin is added to each pint of fruit. This may be done with pear, peach, apricot, pineapple or tomato conserves. Experts recommend is opportune to plan such a training area as Gen. Lear recommends."

Assistant Secretary of War Louis Johnson, Mayor M. A. Harlan of El Paso, and Rep. John J. Dempsey of New Mexico have promised cooperation in support of the proposed reservation.

TWEDELL IS LIVING UP TO THE PREDICTIONS MADE FOR HIM AT THE BEGINNING OF THE SEASON

Well-Balanced Badger Team Has Title Chance

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—(UP)—Speed by land, air and in the brain of a canny quarterback may bring Wisconsin its first undisputed Big Ten football championship since that crushing Badger eleven of 1912 elbowed its way through the Western Conference.

Physical speed makes this year's team a threat from any point on the playing field, as any team coached by one of Notre Dame's four horsemen should be. Mentally, it's the smoothest outfit in the league.

Since Notre Dame's undefeated Irish last week outsped Minnesota so completely, the up and coming Badgers are favored to do the same—favored over the husky Gophers for the first time in years—and a conference title depends on it. Victory means undisputed possession or at worst, a tie with Ohio State.

Squad Has Balance

There are conference teams with faster runners than Wisconsin's ball-carriers, Howie Weiss, Roy Bellin, and Billy Schmitz, but the whole squad has a balanced, general speed that fits it perfectly for the Notre Dame offense Harry Stuhldreher introduced three years ago.

The Badger backfield probably lacks the great speed of the Irish, whose sudden bursts in the first, second and fourth periods actually made Minnesota look slower than it really is. It showed enough against Northwestern, however, to spell trouble for the Gopher defense. The Badgers so far are the only team with enough punch to score a touchdown on Northwestern, and three at that.

The man behind Wisconsin's attack, which has been successful against every team but Pittsburgh and the last half against Purdue, is Vince Gavre, senior quarterback. Gavre's shrewd selection of plays drew loud praise from Coach Bill Spaulding when the Badgers whipped his U. C. L. A. eleven last week. The Saturday before he had mixed them so well Northwestern was baffled completely.

Defensively, Wisconsin should be almost as good as the Irish. Backing up the big red line are the two outstanding defense men in the Big Ten—Weiss, the fullback, and Center Jack Murray.

Wolverines Fast

Speed favors Wisconsin not only in its own title game but in the other at Columbus as well. Ohio State's ponderous Bucks, who can share the title by scoring a victory Saturday, will be outfitted. Michigan is a speed team with a bristling offense led by all-conference Running Guard Ralph

22,000 TO WATCH CANTON TANGLE WITH MASSILLON

BY UNITED PRESS

In the climax game of the 1938 scholastic football season, Canton McKinley's Bulldogs will tackle Massillon's Tigers for the mythical state prep championship Saturday afternoon before a crowd of 22,000 in Massillon's stadium.

The 43rd meeting between these two titans of the gridiron, less than eight miles apart geographically, will top off a furious pigskin campaign for Ohio high schools. Only 10 elevens remain in the undefeated-untied class and two of them are McKinley and Massillon.

Coach Paul Brown's Tigers will rate as slight favorites to repulse the Bulldogs and continue their four-year reign atop the state standings. Experts believe that greater speed, more deception and a stronger aerial attack will bring victory to Massillon although McKinley is given an excellent chance to upset the Tigers.

The 1938 outfit stresses team play. Capt. Vince Snyder, with 14 touchdowns; Ray Getz, with 50 points, and George Slusser, with 36 points, are the outstanding backs.

The Tigers will be in for a grueling game, Coach John Reen has his Bulldogs in their best physical condition of the year and keyed for the championship tilt. The Bulldog attack revolves around Marion Motley, a 190-pound Negro halfback, a gifted runner and clever passer. He has amassed 113 points in seven games. Nick Roman at end is a prize pass receiver and has averaged 45 yards as the Bulldog's regular punter.

RED AND BLACK

ASKED TO JOIN
ATHLETIC LOOP

Southcentral Ohio Wants

Circleville in Again;

Dates are Offered

Circleville high school, Thursday, had received an official invitation from directors of the Southcentral Ohio Athletic league to join that organization again. The Red and Black school, a member for many years, withdrew in 1928 when competition became too tough.

Coach Roy N. Black, who coached Wilmington entry in the league some years back, is in favor of re-entering, and so is Faculty Manager Virgil M. Cress. The final decision will probably be reached in a conference between Black, Cress, Assistant Coach Tom Armstrong, Principal J. Wray Henry and Superintendent Frank Fischer. The conference will probably be held before the end of the week.

The Southcentral league has offered the Tigers four football dates, two to be played in Circleville, one in Wilmington and one in Hillsboro. Greenfield McClain would come here Oct. 6, Circleville would go to Wilmington on Oct. 26, Washington C. H. would invade the Tiger gridiron on Nov. 3 and Circleville would close the season at Hillsboro on Nov. 10.

McClain and Washington C. H. are already on the Tiger's 1939 schedule, Circleville having visited both this year.

Coach Black declared Thursday that he believed competition provided by the Southcentral loop schools would be more interesting to Circleville and Pickaway county football fans than that provided by schools of the Columbus district.

Holy Rosary will open the Circleville schedule next fall, coming to this city. It is possible that Worthington will be booked again, and Grove City may have a place in the schedule, but nothing definite has been worked out. Negotiations are going on between Tiger officials and Lancaster, but so far, nothing definite has been decided.

Coach Black expects to start basketball practice as soon as a volleyball tournament for girls is completed.

RED AND BLACK ASKED TO JOIN ATHLETIC LOOP

Southcentral Ohio Wants
Circleville in Again;
Dates are Offered

Circleville high school, Thursday, had received an official invitation from directors of the Southcentral Ohio Athletic league to join that organization again. The Red and Black school, a member for many years, withdrew in 1928
when competition became too tough.

Coach Roy N. Black, who coached Wilmington entry in the league some years back, is in favor of re-entering, and so is Faculty Manager Virgil M. Cress. The final decision will probably be reached in a conference between Black,
Cress, Assistant Coach Tom Armstrong,
Principal J. Wray Henry and Superintendent Frank Fischer.
The conference will probably be held before the end of the week.

The Southcentral league has offered the Tigers four football dates, two to be played in Circleville,
one in Wilmington and one in Hillsboro. Greenfield McClain would come here Oct. 6, Circleville would go to Wilmington on Oct. 26, Washington C. H. would invade the Tiger gridiron on Nov. 3 and Circleville would close the season at Hillsboro on Nov. 10.

McClain and Washington C. H. are already on the Tiger's 1939 schedule, Circleville having visited both this year.

Coach Black declared Thursday that he believed competition provided by the Southcentral loop schools would be more interesting to Circleville and Pickaway county football fans than that provided by schools of the Columbus district.

Holy Rosary will open the Circleville schedule next Fall, coming to this city. It is possible that Worthington will be booked again, and Grove City may have a place in the schedule, but nothing definite has been worked out. Negotiations are going on between Tiger officials and Lancaster, but so far, nothing definite has been decided.

Coach Black expects to start basketball practice as soon as a volley ball tournament for girls is completed.

ASHVILLE MEETS SCIOTO IN BIG GAME OF WEEK

The Ashville and Scioto township basketball game, scheduled
Friday evening in Commercial Hotel, highlights the county schedule this week. Salt Creek township is the only school that does not get into action, not being scheduled.

Ashville and Scioto are rivals from "away back when—" and the teams always put up good exhibitions when pitted against each other.
Ashville's powerhouse ran up
60 points on Darby last week and Scioto gained a wide margin over Salt Creek.

Other games include Williamsport at Muhlenberg, Walnut at Pickaway, New Holland at Monroe,
Washington at Darby and Jackson at Perry.

22,000 TO WATCH CANTON TANGLE WITH MASSILLON

BY UNITED PRESS

In the climax game of the 1938
scholastic football season, Canton
McKinley's Bulldogs will tackle
Massillon's Tigers for the mythical state prep championship Saturday afternoon before a crowd of 22,000 in Massillon's stadium.

The 43rd meeting between these two titans of the gridiron, less than eight miles apart geographically, will top off a furious pigskin campaign for Ohio high schools.
Only 10 eleven remain in the undefeated-untied class and two of them are McKinley and Massillon.

Coach Paul Brown's Tigers will rate as slight favorites to repulse the Bulldogs and continue their four-year reign atop the state standings. Experts believe that greater speed, more deception and a stronger aerial attack will bring victory to Massillon although McKinley is given an excellent chance to upset the Tigers.

The 1938 outfit stresses team play. Capt. Vince Snyder, with 14 touchdowns; Ray Getz, with 50 points, and George Slusser, with 36 points, are the outstanding backs.

The Tigers will be in for a gruelling game. Coach John Reen has his Bulldogs in their best physical condition of the year and keyed for the championship tilt.
The Bulldog attack revolves around Marion Motley, a 190-pound Negro halfback, a gifted runner and clever passer. He has amassed 113 points in seven games. Nick Roman at end is a prize pass receiver and has averaged 45 yards as the Bulldog's regular punter.

COUNCIL ESTABLISHES 72-HOUR WEEK FOR POLICE DEPARTMENT

NEW SCHEDULE TO BE STARTED FIRST OF YEAR

No Extra Men Provided In Legislation Given Unanimous Vote

SHIFTS REMAIN SAME

Law to be Void in Case Of Any Emergencies, Officials Declare

Ordinance establishing a 72-hour week for members of the Circleville police department was given a third reading Wednesday night and passed by council.

The new regulation becomes effective in 30 days. Karl Herrmann safety director, said it was probable the new schedule would be started Jan. 1, since the effective date arrives during the Christmas shopping season.

At present members of the department have been working 84 hours a week or 12 hours each day. Under the ordinance members would work six days or nights on 12-hour shifts. Patrolmen will be required to serve more than 72 hours in the event of sickness of a member or in an emergency. This extra work will be subject to the discretion of the chief of police and the safety director.

All councilmen approved the ordinance. Councilman William Reid said it would be doubtful if members of the department received more than 35 of the 52 days or nights off duty as provided in the legislation. He explained that since the ordinance necessitated no extra officers, patrolmen would be required to serve full time during the week of camp meeting, Pumpkin Show, the Summer vacation period and during other special activities in the city.

The legislation does not effect the annual vacation provided for members of the department.

AUTO AND TRUCK HIT IN STREET WEDNESDAY EVE

Auto driven by Charles E. Hilbrecht, 158 Race street, Chillicothe, and a truck driven by George D. Sheline, 713 Scott street, Columbus, were involved in a traffic accident Wednesday about 8:15 p. m. on Court street between Main and Franklin streets.

Both were going north on Court street. Walter Heise, constable, who investigated the mishap, was told that the truck struck the rear of the auto when the car was stopped. A rear fender and tail light on the auto and a front fender on the truck were damaged.

About 25 men representing the building trades of the city attended a meeting in the American hotel, Wednesday evening addressed by representatives of the Federal Housing Administration. Loans for small structures and improvements were discussed.

T. O. Gilliland was chairman of the meeting.

Figures in 'Burial' Mystery

POLICE at Le Mars, Ia., held Mrs. Sumner Knox for questioning following discovery of a body buried in a "kitchen cabinet" coffin in the yard of the Knox home. The body is thought to be that of Mrs. Knox's 80-year-old mother, Mrs. L. A. Throw. Meanwhile, a wide search is being conducted for Sumner Knox, husband of Mrs. Knox, who has been missing for some time.

Louisiana Girl Puzzles Folk With Her Miracles

JONESVILLE, La., Nov. 17.—(UP)—Strange things are happening in this town in the Black river bottoms—things which some people call miraculous, some call spiritual, and some call hokey.

They originate from a 13 year old girl with light brown wavy hair and grey-blue eyes—Alice Bell Kirby, the seventh child in Farmer Leon Kirby's family of eight girls.

There are fancy names for them—automatic movements, telekinesis, levitation—but Alice Bell hasn't heard of those names. For the fun of it she makes tables move by holding her hands on them, or makes them move without touching them. Sometimes she has them float in the air.

Most times she performs these feats in pitch darkness in which witnesses may feel but not see, but there are witnesses who say they've seen her do them in broad daylight.

Home Folk Unconcerned

Among the some 5,000 persons who have visited the 425 acre Kirby farm four miles south of here during the last 10 months, have been businessmen, plantation owners, appellate court justices, educators, and many just plain curious and skeptical folk from near and distant places. Most of the people of Jonesville speak of Alice Bell's "power" in a casual way and some of them merely call it "spooks."

Alice Bell, possessed of unusual poise and patience, but otherwise she is much like the other children of the Jonesville block school.

Probably most skeptical was Dr. H. W. Wright, who has been superintendent of Catahoula parish schools 21 years. Alice Bell visited his home early this year to play with his daughter, and asked him what he thought of her "power."

"Alice Bell," he said, "I wouldn't believe it even if I saw it."

But since then he has observed the "miracles" many times and he

COUNCIL ESTABLISHES 72-HOUR WEEK FOR POLICE DEPARTMENT

NEW SCHEDULE TO BE STARTED FIRST OF YEAR

No Extra Men Provided In Legislation Given Unanimous Vote

SHIFTS REMAIN SAME

Law to be Void in Case Of Any Emergencies, Officials Declare

Ordinance establishing a 72-hour week for members of the Circleville police department was given a third reading Wednesday night and passed by council.

The new regulation becomes effective in 30 days. Karl Herrmann safety director, said it was probable the new schedule would be started Jan. 1, since the effective date arrives during the Christmas shopping season.

At present members of the department have been working 84 hours a week or 12 hours each day. Under the ordinance members would work six days or nights on 12-hour shifts. Patrolmen will be required to serve more than 72 hours in the event of sickness of a member or in an emergency. This extra work will be subject to the discretion of the chief of police and the safety director.

All councilmen approved the ordinance. Councilman William Reid said it would be doubtful if members of the department received more than 35 of the 52 days or nights off duty as provided in the legislation. He explained that since the ordinance necessitated no extra officers, patrolmen would be required to serve full time during the week of camp meeting, Pumpkin Show, the Summer vacation period and during other special activities in the city.

The legislation does not effect the annual vacation provided for members of the department.

Louisiana Girl Puzzles Folk With Her Miracles

JONESVILLE, La., Nov. 17—(UP)—Strange things are happening in this town in the Black river bottoms—things which some people call miraculous, some call spiritual, and some call hokey.

They originate from a 13 year old girl with light brown wavy hair and grey-blue eyes—Alice Bell Kirby, the seventh child in Farmer Leon Kirby's family of eight girls.

There are fancy names for them—automatic movements, telekinesis, levitation—but Alice Bell hasn't heard of those names. For the fun of it she makes tables move by holding her hands on them, or makes them move without touching them. Sometimes she has them float in the air.

Most times she performs these feats in pitch darkness in which witnesses may feel but not see, but there are witnesses who say they've seen her do them in broad daylight.

Home Folk Unconcerned

Among the some 5,000 persons who have visited the 425 acre Kirby farm four miles south of here during the last 10 months, have been businessmen, plantation owners, appellate court justices, educators, and many just plain curious and skeptical folk from near and distant places. Most of the people of Jonesville speak of Alice Bell's "power" in a casual way and some of them merely call it "spooks."

Alice Bell, possessed of unusual poise and patience, but otherwise she is much like the other children of the Jonesville block school.

Probably most skeptical was Dr. H. W. Wright, who has been superintendent of Catahoula parish schools 21 years. Alice Bell visited his home early this year to play with his daughter, and asked him what he thought of her "power."

"Alice Bell," he said, "I wouldn't believe it even if I saw it."

But since then he has observed the "miracles" many times and he talks about them willingly and at length, but with no effort to explain them.

"It's just the most miraculous thing I've ever seen," he said.

Wright, Charles C. Elkins, parish supervisor of education, Principal A. L. Brooks of the elementary school at Sicily Island, and Principal F. H. Shiel of Alice Bell's school, have all been witnesses to Alice Bell's performances and all professed themselves to be utterly mystified.

Table Slides

Wright told of occasions both in the dark and in the light when tables moved at Alice Bell's command, when an upright piano slid across the floor and shook violently, when a pencil in her hand wrote answers to questions while she was blindfolded, and of tables rising in the air, apparently of themselves, with Alice Bell sitting on them.

Shiel told of seeing piano keys playing without hands touching them, of a piano stool throwing Alice Bell to the floor while he was holding her down tightly and a man weighing 200 pounds sat on the floor holding it down. He said he saw a table tip and move about a lighted room at the child's command and then rise 10 inches off the floor.
